

ABYDE PARK 'TERRORS'

Robbed 100, Kidnaped, Boys Confess

Four of "the terrors of Hyde Park"—the highwaymen whose exploits have kept residents of the most pretentious residence districts of the south side indoors at night and were responsible for the formation of vigilante committees—confessed yesterday.

The scene of the confession was the Boys' court, "the terrors" proving to be youths of between 17 and 22 years of age, who boasted of 100 hold-ups and robberies committed in the Hyde Park territory. In these hold-ups well to do citizens were kidnapped, forced into automobiles, and robbed. University of Chicago students forced to see their women companions torn from them, and chauffeurs to drive to lonely spots at which their cars were stolen.

Always Gave Carfare. One thing always distinguished the robbers. They never allowed a victim to leave them without being provided with carfare and wished a polite good-night.

The four youths who made the confession are Fred Loomis, 18 years old, of 1625 Prairie avenue; Thomas Scott, 21 years old, of 3028 South Wells street; Alfred Scott, 22 years old, of 4929 Prairie avenue; and Charles Zimmerman, 17 years old, of 4620 Calumet avenue. They were bound over to the grand jury.

A week ago Policeman Christ Tepper of the New City station saw six youths come from a restaurant at Fifty-fourth street and Western avenue. One of the policeman called "Jiggers," the cop. Tepper chased them. He caught Loomis, who later confessed and named his companions. Two have left the city, the police say.

Confession Is Corroborated. Loomis made a startling confession which has since been corroborated by the police and their victims.

"We worked six nights a week regularly," said the boy. "We made it a rule never to make less than seven robberies a night. We acquired a lot of guns and used them to intimidate victims though we would have hated to shoot anybody."

The police found twenty-five revolvers in Loomis' room.

Identified by Thirty-seven. At the Hyde Park station, where the boys were taken after arrest, scores of persons viewed them to make identification. Thirty-seven did so positively and scores of others, said the boys, "looked like the robbers" but were not certain. They were held to the grand jury on the thirty-seven counts each.

Patrick Quinn, 4211 Ellis avenue, one of their victims, told the police a typical story when he identified them. He has been in this country but six weeks, having immigrated from Ireland.

"I was walking home one night when they drove up in their car," he related. "I had never seen a holdup, but I obeyed when they told me to get into the car."

"Come on for a ride in the car," said one to me.

"No, thank you," I replied, "I don't care for a ride."

"They dragged me in any way and drove me to Forty-sixth street and Woodlawn avenue. They had taken all my money and my gold watch. They asked me where I lived and I told them. They gave me back my watch when they learned how little I knew of America and drove me back to my home."

Only Cochran's Coin in Bank. Manager Cochran before he left this country for London in November left his check for his part of the promoter's deposit with his American representative, Promoter Brady, who was sent to Europe and cashed the money. The money has never been forthcoming, and Cochran is now suing Brady for $33,333.33, it has developed.

Champion's Money Not Up. It developed that no deposit was ever made by Manager Kearns on behalf of Champion Dempsey. Nor has there been any time extension granted the champion, in which to make the deposit.

For these reasons the match has been abandoned as far as the present promoters are concerned, and permanent transfer of the National Boxing Association of the United States, organized to control and supervise the sport throughout the country, in adoption of a maximum prize of $15 for admission to bouts in which championship was involved.

Conditions in boxing over the counter have experienced a decided change since the men were matched. Talk of the match has gradually diminished and it is now almost forgotten.

Champion Dempsey and Carpenter will be signed again remains to be seen.

While the failure to adhere to the stipulations of the contract has been the compelling forces in dictating the abandonment of the battle, there are other reasons for the match. Not the least of these is the action of the National Boxing Association of the United States, organized to control and supervise the sport throughout the country, in adoption of a maximum prize of $15 for admission to bouts in which championship was involved.

MORSE GETS MAN OUT OF VAULT, BUT MOUSE DIES

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 18.—Locked for nearly six hours in a hermetically sealed concrete and steel vault in the city treasurer's office last night, a knowledge of the Morse telegraph code probably saved the life of Arthur Brenner, assistant city treasurer. It became known today: A mouse locked in at the same time failed to survive and when Brenner was rescued its body was found.

Brenner entered the vault, a room fifteen feet square and twenty feet high, five minutes before closing time yesterday hunting for a warrant. While he was there the doors swung shut. He shouted for help without attracting notice.

The lights went out automatically as the doors shut. Brenner pulled open every drawer and piled the books on the floor to get the maximum amount of air and then slept for a while, with his face near the bottom of the door.

When he woke, his hand came in contact with a wooden slit and, remembering that Charles Hockwald, a baker, at 3228 Lincoln avenue, charges Osterle borrowed $16,000 from him and stole $3,000 from his daughter, on the pretense he was the sole representative in America of certain German automobile concerns.

Gave Self "Van Fortunate." Postal inspectors were working on the theory last night that Osterle had swindled several banks and individuals by inducing them to aid in financing his automobile agency.

The government wireless messages direct that Osterle be taken from the Manchuria before it reaches Hamburg or enters the three mile limit and that he be returned to Chicago to face a charge of using the mails to defraud.

The alleged fraud consists, according to the warrant, in writing letters to himself in which he promised himself a vast fortune as agent for a certain make of automobile in America.

Listed as Enemy Alien. The story unfolded by the Spellmans to James R. Glass, assistant district attorney, is declared one of the weirdest ever brought to the attention of the federal authorities. The gist of the story as related to Mr. Glass and gleaned from government records is as follows:

Osterle came to the United States from Germany seven years ago, after serving in the German army as an officer. With him, was his wife, Hertha. During the war he was registered as an alien enemy.

During the early part of 1920 he announced that he had obtained a divorce. Later he met Miss Shellman, the girl whom the Home exposition judges declared to have the most beautiful shoulders in Chicago. They eloped to Crown Point and were married there in October of 1920.

Wife Charges Forgery. Osterle then rented a handsome apartment at 6251 Sheridan road. Shortly afterward scores of letters began to arrive, supposedly from the automobile company in Germany. He told his father-in-law he was short of money and asked a loan to pay duty on

RADIO LEAPS OUT FOR SEA ARREST

Orders Chicago German Seized on Ship.

Radio messages flashed yesterday by Chicago federal officials to the steamer Manchuria, now in mid-ocean, asked the arrest of Walter Osterle, former officer in the German army. The officials believe he is attempting to reach Germany with nearly $100,000 alleged to have been obtained from American citizens by dubious schemes.

A complaint filed with Commissioner Mason by Anna Roma Shellman Osterle, the Crown Point wife of Osterle, who was adjudged the second most beautiful girl in Chicago at the Home exposition in 1915, led to issuance of the warrant. Her father, Adolph Shellman, a baker, at 3228 Lincoln avenue, charges Osterle borrowed $16,000 from him and stole $3,000 from his daughter, on the pretense he was the sole representative in America of certain German automobile concerns.

that we could appropriate only a small amount above the estimated revenue, then he reversed himself and makes the blue sky limit.

"This bond issue, if approved, will prevent the use of bonds for permanent improvements heretofore approved by the voters. That is not keeping faith with the public."

"Certainly not," said McCormick. "I have pointed out that half a dozen times. In addition, let me say that we get our authority from the legislature. It has said how much we can use for current expenses and in effect it has said that you live within that income until it gives authority to us to spend more. The legislature is in session and can now grant authority to spend more for current expenses."

Asks About Extra Cash

"I would like to know what the city is going to do with the extra money after paying last year's deficit," said Fisher. "I want to know the basis for this $12,500,000 estimate."

"We are making improvements by this bond issue," said McCormick. "We are not," replied Woodhull, "but in the emergency some of them may be deferred."

"We have no money to provide for waste disposal, as was shown here a few minutes ago," said Lippe. "We might ask for money for that purpose also."

There was probably six times as much more discussion about these matters before a vote was taken. The council rules will probably be suspended today to approve of the bond issue ordinance and another calling a special election on Feb. 22 to submit the bond ordinance to the electorate.

RUSH MAYOR'S PLAN

Suspension of the city council's rules probably will be asked at today's session of the aldermen for the approval of Mayor Thompson's "people's ownership" traction plan.

Administration leaders are expected to demand speed so the necessary enabling legislation may be placed before the state legislature with the council's O. K. before Feb. 1.

The mayor's scheme requires that the fare on the surface lines, built, leased, or purchased under the plan be 5 cents and there has been much speculation as to whether the trustees, who will operate the lines, will be obliged to levy taxes to pay the deficit which, many say, will appear under a 5 cent fare.

Some light on this question was shed yesterday when Special Attorney Chester E. Cleveland turned over to Ald. A. McCormick the disposition which, according to surface line officials, is now being made of the 5 cents collected from each adult passenger.

Where Money Goes

The report gives the total passenger and miscellaneous revenue for September, 1920, as $5,072,186, or 8.055 cents for each passenger carried. The disposition of the 8.055 cents was as follows:

	Amount of each fare, cents	Total
Platform wages	2.940	$1,806,037
Other wages	1.366	862,396
Power	496	310,009
Maintenance, etc.	1.913	1,208,461
Taxes and damages	338	210,000
3% on purchase price	1.071	670,397
City's 5% of divisible	333	210,010
Company's 45% of divisible	252	171,856
net receipts		5,072,186
Totals		$5,072,186
Wages, power and maintenance took 8.8 cents or nearly two-thirds of each 8.055 cents collected from passengers and miscellaneous revenues.

FINANCIAL HEAD OF BRITAIN WILL DELAY U. S. TRIP

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The mission to the United States of Lord Chalmers, permanent secretary of the treasury, has been postponed, merely because it is considered negotiations with the American government should not occur during the absence of Sir Auckland Geddes, the British ambassador, who was authoritatively stated today.

(Sir Auckland is on the way from New York to London to confer with Premier Lloyd George and Earl Curzon, the foreign secretary.)

Reports that the trip of Lord Chalmers had been postponed for political reasons were declared erroneous, his visit merely being delayed until Sir Auckland returns to America, which will be the middle of February, at the latest.

Mexican City Swept by Flood from Broken Dam

General view of Pachuca, capital of Hidalgo, swept by flood yesterday with a loss of twenty lives. The city has a population of nearly 40,000. It was founded in 1534. The mountains contain gold, silver, copper, platinum, manganese and other valuable ores. Most of the mines now are owned by American and British capital and there are many mining men, both British and Americans, in the city. The district is one of the richest wealth producers of the world.

BULK OF YOUNG RYAN'S ESTATE LEFT TO WOMAN

Widow Gets Only $100—Separation Bared

New York, Jan. 18.—[Special.]—The first indication that the late Joseph J. Ryan, youngest son of Thomas Fortune Ryan, had been separated from his wife since 1915 came today when his will was filed.

It leaves but $100 to his widow, Mrs. Nannie Morse Ryan, the residue of the estate, including what he was entitled to under his mother's will, going to Miss Dorothy Lucille Whitford of 172 West Seventy-ninth street.

Miss Whitford, who had known Mr. Ryan for several years, is the daughter of John H. Whitford, a manufacturer of toys at 675 Hudson street. She has been on the stage and was in "The Royal Vagabond" until she was injured by the fall of a lamp used in a setting. At present she is in Rock Landing, Fla.

WASHINGTON NEWS IN BRIEF

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 18.—There will be no more configurations by the senate of appointments of this administration, especially to high ranking offices in the army and navy and government bureaus, to hamper the incoming administration for the next four years, the senate today making clear its intention to hold up all such appointments and any others made by President Wilson during the remainder of his term.

Senator Johnson introduced a resolution designed to bring out all the facts in connection with the American expedition to Siberia.

President Wilson has sustained the position taken by the state department in directing the deportation of Donald O'Callaghan, the stayaway lord mayor of Cork. The secretary of labor having appealed the case to him and having been overruled, will deport O'Callaghan on the first available steamer.

Sugar producers asked for increased duties before the house ways and means committee, but representatives of the refineries defended present rates.

War department engineers report adversely on the proposal to build a ship channel between the great lakes and the Hudson river.

Senator Penrose heads drive by senators to keep Charles E. Hughes out of cabinet, and supports Elihu Root for the portfolio of state.

Chicago Film Censorship Declared Model for U. S.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 18.—[Special.]—Citing the action of Chicago in suppressing motion pictures that are indecent or conducive to crime, Dr. William F. Crafts, superintendent of the International Reform bureau, urged the commissioners of the District of Columbia today to join a nationwide movement for regulation of the motion picture industry by ordinary police power of cities while waiting for federal censorship held up by opposition of the motion picture interests.

68 Russians Burned to Death in Train Fire

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 18.—Sixty-eight passengers on a Russian railway train running from Luga, on the Gulf of Finland, to Novgorod, southeast of Petrograd, were burned to death when a shipment of benzine exploded, says a Helsingfors dispatch to the Berlingske Tidende today.

TOLEDO CRIMES CAUSE DEMAND FOR INSURANCE

Toledo, O., Jan. 18.—Six murders in eight days have resulted in a run on insurance companies here, it was announced today. The applicants desire everything from protection from burglary to highway robbery and safekeeping. It was said.

It was added that the insurance companies were getting a price for such policies.

The killing here Monday of two railroad detectives during a $5,000 holdup was solved today by the confession of Edward Foley, 20 years old, claiming Omaha, Neb., as his home. He told the police he was in the party that killed A. L. Long and Louis Schroeder. Foley said the loot was divided in the apartment of the sweetheart of Royce Richardson, a Negro, who, the police say, has been positively identified.

Legal Fight Expected

At Miss Whitford's home a man, who said he was her brother, said that he had introduced his sister to Mr. Ryan. She was with Mr. Ryan when he died.

"We expect that there will be a fight over the will," John J. Robinson, attorney for Miss Whitford, said. "Miss Whitford and Mr. Ryan thought a great deal of each other. There is no doubt they would have quarried if circumstances had permitted."

BRIDE PLAYS AGE, BREAKS THE BANK AT MONTE CARLO

New York, Jan. 18.—Mrs. Betty Schwartz, 20, and pretty, a bride of six weeks, "played her age" on the roulette wheel at Monte Carlo time after time, starting with a small bet, and finally broke the particular bank she was playing with a nest egg of $100,000.

Her husband, Harry Schwartz, feeling that it was up to him to win a little something, elbowed into the crap game aboard the Imperator Sunday afternoon and wheeled $12,000 out of the cossack clikers before four professional gamblers, well known along Broadway, could get wfully find something to do on deck. So the Schwartzs, who are New Yorkers, are ahead just $112,000 on their honeymoon.

INVESTIGATION OF U.S. POLICY IN SIBERIA ASKED

Johnson Urges Senate to Start Inquiry

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., Jan. 18.—[Special.]—Senator Johnson of California introduced a resolution in the senate today, while not intended to relate directly to the controversy between the United States and Japan respecting Japanese occupation of Siberian territory, if adopted would bring to light facts concerning the American expedition to Siberia.

Johnson's Resolution

Resolved, That the foreign relations committee or a subcommittee thereof be and it is hereby authorized to investigate the sending of United States soldiers to Siberia, the purpose of their presence there; their activities and accomplishments, if any, and also the condition and situation of citizens of the United States and the interests of citizens of the United States in Siberia.

The state department takes the view that the interference with and detention of American sailors by Japanese sentries in Vladivostok subsequent to the killing of Lieut. W. H. Langdon of the cruiser Albany were cases of "perfunctory challenge." It will await further reports from its own and the navy department's investigations and the reply of the Japanese foreign office before making any further representations to Tokyo.

Japan to Stand Pat?

It is believed in quarters acquainted with the Japanese policy in Siberia that Japan will attempt to justify the presence of her troops in Vladivostok and in front of the Korean border and assert the right to military force for the widening of the street, and the construction of a viaduct from Twenty-third street across the Illinois Central tracks. No publicity was given its action, however.

According to the tentative plans of the board the new thoroughfare will be the same width as Grand boulevard, which is 198 feet. At present South Park avenue ends abruptly at Twenty-second street and is only sixty feet wide.

Pay by Assessments

The money for the improvement will have to come through special assessment, the board members say. This later date, however.

The new thoroughfare will greatly relieve traffic conditions on Michigan avenue as most of the Hyde Park automobilists and others from the suburban districts will use this route to reach Chicago.

Foster Tells Plan

According to J. F. Foster, the superintendent of the South Parks, South Park avenue will be connected with the proposed "outer drive" from the Grant park to Jackson park for which $20,000,000 was recently voted.

JAP TROOPS SIT TIGHT

1—Tension over the killing of an American officer by a Japanese sentry at Vladivostok has brought the whole of Japan's Asiatic land grab to the front again.

2—The Japs appear to be in the Vladivostok region for a stay. This is Russia's only Pacific port. Japanese military works have been erected at Nikolai and Japan controls the Ussuri valley with its mineral wealth.

SOCIALISTS DRA NIFE AND PIST T. ITALIAN MEET

Four Suspects Taken and Thirteen More Held.
W. W. Complete Failure
One from U. S. Says.

LEHIGH, Jan. 18.—[Special.]—A socialist deputy from New York was in the United States today as a lecturer and was arrested at the center of a tumultuous meeting of the socialist congress today. The socialist revolution, which is the aim of the congress, was the subject of the meeting. The speaker, Valentin, was arrested by several of the postal employees in charge of the mail pouches in an attempt to identify him.

Following an exchange of more than twenty shots that drove belated pedestrians to cover, four suspects were captured at the scene of the mail robbery. The incident took place at the intersection of Twenty-first street and Indiana avenue. The suspects were taken to the police station. The robbery was the first of its kind in the city for many years.

Violence Cannot Win. They have found after three years the most dogged and violent struggle against the American people that it does not pay. They make any progress, they are to reach their goal.

Auto Fits Description. The description of the automobile in which the last men arrested were riding answers in a general way that of the one employed by the mail robbers. All are young men, as in the case of the mail pouch thieves.

Suspects Open Fire. At Forty-fifth street and Grand boulevard, a machine carrying six men dashed by. The police automobiles gave chase. This led between Forty-fifth street and Grand boulevard and Calumet avenue.

Saloon Is Raided. The saloon raid was on the place of "Dutch" Carroll, Madison and Elizabeth streets. This has been known, according to the police, as a rendezvous for underworld characters. Early in the afternoon Chief of Detectives Michael Hughes received a tip that the mail robbery loot, the value of which remains undetermined, was hidden in Carroll's saloon.

HOMAGE TO ROYALTY

Girls of the class in child care at the Lucy Flower Technical High School pay glad homage to some young American royalty as exhibited by fond mamma. Each royal sprig was declared the "finest baby in the world; never gives me a bit of trouble." Miss Grace Moore, the class teacher, is at the left of the group.

The Babies' Day

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES.

BABY'S place, it would seem is in the schoolroom of the Lucy Flower Technical High School for Girls, at 6059 Wabash avenue.

Miss Grace Moore of the Flower school last September organized the first course in "Child Care" ever to be presented in the Chicago public schools. The eighteen girls who registered for the course spent the semester in learning about the proper feeding, clothing, bathing, and general care of children from the infant stage to the age of 14.

What should a blue-eyed boy of 6 eat? What is the proper height for a 3-year-old girl named Martha? When baby burns his hand, which is the better, a baking soda compress or hysterics? Which is preferable, the Montessori or the spunk 'em theory of discipline?

These and other important questions, said Miss Moore yesterday, were worked out scientifically by the girls, in theory, of course, for we had no real babies on whom to test our theories.

The class, as part of its commencement exercises, invited the married alumnae of the school to come back to a reunion and bring their babies.

Did you bring your baby? At "right, pass in," was the strange challenge at the entrance of the academic hall, where for the first time, perhaps, in the history of pedagogy, a baby was the equivalent for a Latin grammar or a copybook.

Twenty of the alumnae returned, each with the "finest baby in the world; never gives me a bit of trouble," and handed over Mary, John, and the twins to the students, who proceeded to adore the mothers' what a high school education had done for them.

them while a thorough search of the premises was made. No trace of the missing mail pouches or of their contents was revealed.

CHICAGO WOMAN CONTESTS TWO MILLION WILL

Mount Vernon, N. Y., Jan. 18.—[Special.]—Farrington M. Thompson of White Plains, as counsel for Carrie E. Ryder of Chicago, today filed objections with Surrogate George A. Slater at White Plains to the probate of the will of her sister, Mrs. Frances L. Bemis, widow of the late Edward M. Bemis, one of the Standard Oil company vice presidents.

It is contended by the contestant that Mrs. Bemis was not of sound mind and memory to make a will by which she disposed of an estate valued at more than $2,000,000. Her sister left her only $5,000.

Mrs. Bemis died at Larchmont on the Sound on March 8, 1920, and temporary administrators appointed by Surrogate Slater have been in charge of the will ever since the will was offered for probate.

Reward of $50 Offered for $180,000 Stolen Mail Bags. Mt. Vernon, Ill., Jan. 18.—[Special.]—A reward of fifty dollars has been offered for the return of the mail pouches stolen from this city last Friday. It is said, unofficially, that a loss of $180,000 has been discovered.

COINI PICKED FOR STAGE DIRECTOR BY MISS GARDEN

Jacques Coini, for several years stage director with the Century Opera company, was yesterday appointed to that position with the Chicago Grand Opera company by Mary Garden, the new director general. He, supplants Romeo Francioli, who was the first member of the company to be discharged by Miss Garden.

Several days before Gino Marinuzzi resigned as artistic director Miss Garden was quoted as saying the company needed a stage director who could speak English, and it had been practically assured that Francioli would go ever since she was placed in charge.

Miss Garden confirmed the report that Charles L. Wagner would not be the new business manager. She declared Mr. Wagner declined the position because of his duties as manager of John McCormack and other opera stars. She denied his refusal had anything to do with his differences with Amelia Galli-Curci, formerly under his management.

HARDING CABINET CHOSEN, HE TELLS BISHOP BERRY

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 18.—[Special.]—President Elect Harding told Bishop Joseph F. Berry of the Methodist Episcopal church, that his cabinet is made up, that its personnel is complete.

While many things we talked of were confidential, I may say that all these reports of vacillation on Mr. Harding's part in the selection of his cabinet are hush," Bishop Berry said. Mr. Harding told me he had his cabinet selected and could make known his appointments tomorrow if he saw fit to do so. He said the politicians had been very gracious and had not interfered with his own selections.

Mr. Harding told the bishop considerable opposition was offered by politicians to one man prominently mentioned, but that even he was not bitterly opposed. Whether Mr. Harding was referring to Herbert Hoover, Bishop Berry would give no indication.

ROOT, NOT HUGHES FOR PREMIER, IS CRY IN SENATE

Penrose Leads Drive for Last Minute Change.

BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.
Washington, D. C., Jan. 18.—[Special.]—An eleventh hour effort to induce President Elect Harding to offer Elihu Root the office of secretary of state appears to have been undertaken by prominent Republicans.

Some of the many prominent Republicans, the selection of Mr. Hughes would not strengthen the party and would lay the foundation of class and sectionalism. The idea is widespread that the senate and Mr. Hughes will not be able to work in harmony in the conduct of foreign relations.

Some Want Dr. Hill. It has become evident that while many Republican senators, particularly those of the irreconcilable treaty group, are not eager to have Mr. Root, they prefer him to Mr. Hughes.

Senator Penrose has written to Mr. Harding strongly protesting against the appointment of Mr. Hughes as secretary of state. He also objected strenuously to the inclusion of Mr. Hoover in the cabinet.

South to Have Place. Miami, Fla., Jan. 18.—[Special.]—Fred W. Upham of Chicago, treasurer of the Republican national committee, said today that one and possibly two members of the Harding cabinet would be from the south. He refused to mention any names.

HARDING ALL SET FOR REST

Marion, O., Jan. 18.—[Special.]—President Elect Harding today completed plans for his sojourn in Florida until inauguration. He leaves here late Thursday evening and will travel directly to St. Augustine, where he will arrive on Saturday morning.

After a game of golf there he will go on board the yacht Victory, owned by Senator Frelinghuysen, New Jersey, whose guest he will be on what is expected to be a placid trip along the coast and up the Indian river, stopping occasionally to play golf.

This will take two weeks. Then Mr. Harding will return to St. Augustine, where he will resume work on his cabinet and inauguration address. He will come back to Marion on March 1 and leave the next evening for Washington.

Besides Senators Frelinghuysen and Fred Hale, Maine, Mr. Harding's pals on his Texas and Panama trip, Senators A. B. Hall, New Mexico, and Albert B. Cummins, Iowa, will accompany Mr. Harding south. Secretary George Christian Jr. and Miles McCall, assistant chief of the secret service, also will be on board.

Few appointments remain on Mr. Harding's calendar.

Burglar Gets Only $5; Burns Woman with Acid

Mrs. Louise Stettler, a widow, 2411 Moffatt street, was severely burned last night when a burglar to whom she refused to give more money, threw acid in her face. She was in the front room of her home when he entered and demanded money. She gave him $5, which she told him, was all she had. He cursed her, threw the acid from a bottle and ran.

CHECKS

Girl Whose Dismissal on Confidence Game Charge
Hinges on Would-Be Suicide's Recovery.

MILDRED HIRSH.

UPON the recovery of Gordon McCarthy of 3356 Washington boulevard, said to be suffering from bichloride of mercury poisoning in the St. Francis hospital at Peoria, depends the dismissal of a confidence game charge against Miss Mildred Stern, daughter of Mrs. Rose L. Stern of 5141 Greenwood avenue.

The girl, said actually to be Mrs. Mildred Hirsh, divorced wife of Edison Hirsh, was arrested on charges of passing several checks to which McCarthy's name was signed. When arrested in the South Clark street court on Monday she declared McCarthy had given her the checks and she had cashed them in good faith. She also accused him of having made off with her $1,800 ring.

The young man is said to have attempted to take his life.

He's just recovering from the effects of drinking," Miss Stern or Mrs. Hirsh declared yesterday. She said she was going to Peoria to investigate the case.

HARDING LAUDS

MOVE TO START

BUILDING BOOM

President Elect Harding has sent a letter to John H. Kirby, president of the National Lumber Manufacturers' association, indicating the purposes of the meeting of building material men in Chicago, Jan. 21 and 22, to take up the question of price adjustment and a revival of building activities.

"I was much interested in the plan to bring the industries that produce building materials into an arrangement under which there can be an early readjustment of the price basis throughout these industries with a view to enabling early resumption of building operations," Mr. Harding's letter says.

"I am impressed that four plan is a practical and businesslike one, promising substantial results in the direction of solving the problems of housing and of employment.

"Of course, such an effort, in order to achieve the fullest success, must include a considerable group of industries whose products enter into building operations. Different building materials compete with one another, and, therefore, in fairness to all of them, it will be necessary to effect approximately a uniform measure of price readjustment.

"I am convinced that if the lumbermen find such a program feasible other industries which produce building materials would serve both themselves and the country by giving support to it.

"It is particularly gratifying to find the representatives of so important a line of industries undertaking on their own initiative, and without appeal for government help, to deal with such a problem.

"It seems to me that in calling the conference on Jan. 21 and 22 you are going about this matter in the businesslike manner that the country is entitled to expect from its men of large affairs.

Your proposal will undoubtedly encourage an early resumption of building activities."

FREEDOM OF SEA MEANS NOTHING TO RED RUSSIA

Will Sink Armed Ships That Sail Too Near.

BY HENRY WALES.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

PARIS, Jan. 18.—The soviet government of Russia informed the allied council today that the territorial limits of Russian waters had been extended from three to twelve miles and that the Russians were reserving the right to sink ships penetrating this limit either by mines or by land batteries.

The announcement came by radio and was intercepted by the Eiffel tower station. The message carried the name of the Russian minister of foreign affairs, Tchitcherin.

Allied naval circles interpret this move to mean that soviet Russia intends to complete preparations for a gigantic spring offensive in absolute secrecy. Confidential reports state that the Russians also desire secret fields for trials of submarines rumored to be under construction in Russia by German engineers and workmen.

It is asserted that Crotchet, the Reds' naval base, presents scenes of the greatest activity.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Jan. 18.—The bill to prohibit high heels in Utah, which probably will be introduced tomorrow or next day, was made public today at a meeting of representatives of women's clubs who held a conference with legislators at the capital this morning.

The proposed bill, drawn to take effect Jan. 1, 1925, provides a fine of from $25 to $50 for the first violation and of $50 to $100 and imprisonment for each additional offense.

SMALL NAMES 6 OF HIS CABINET; ALL APPROVED

Follows Sidetracking of Fight on Sanborn.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 18.—[Special.]—The Lundin organization fight against Gen. Joseph B. Sanborn was sidetracked, at least for the present. Gov. Small named six of the nine members of his cabinet.

The general assembly adjourned for two weeks, or until Tuesday, Feb. 1. These were the significant developments today at Springfield.

The six cabinet appointees, all of whom were confirmed by the senate by unanimous consent after a "gentlemen's agreement" had been reached that there should be no attempt made to ditch Gen. Sanborn, caused great political surprise after the list was scanned.

Names of Appointees.

The six, all of whom were immediately sworn in and entered upon the duties of their offices, excepting George A. Barr of Joliet, who arrives tomorrow, follow:

Director of trade: George A. Barr, Joliet, vice William H. Boys.

Director of public works: Cornelius R. Miller, Kankakee, vice Frank I. Bennett.

Director of agriculture: B. M. Davidson, Marshall, Clark county, vice Charles Adkins.

Director of labor: George B. Arnold, Chicago, vice Barney Cohen.

Director of public welfare: Chauncey H. Jenkins, Springfield, vice Charles H. Thorn.

Director of registration and education: W. H. H. Miller, Champaign, vice P. W. Sheppardson.

Gov. Small named his son-in-law, Capt. Arthur E. Ingles of Kankakee, administrative auditor in place of Joseph C. Mason.

Fight Over Director of Health.

Three places in the cabinet remain open. Directors of Finance Omar H. Wright has agreed to remain in office during the session of the legislature, or until the budget is out of the way. There is a fight on over the director of health that centers around the office of Dr. John Bill Roberts, now in Chicago, and Dr. C. St. Claire Drake remains in power for the time being. The director of mines, Robert M. Medill, probably will be retained.

Labor Director Arnold, not on the Chicago school board. He has been prominent in union labor circles in Chicago.

Jenkins a Probate Judge.

Director Jenkins will have the handling of all of the charitable, penal, and reformatory institutions. He is the Probate Judge of Sangamon county. He is actively associated politically with George B. Gillespie, the Springfield representative of the city hall in traction matters.

Director Miller was the candidate on the city hall slate for the nomination for secretary of state. He was active in the Lowden presidential campaign, and later, over his signature, repudiated attacks that he had made upon the old state board of equalization in that campaign.

The appointment of Cicero J. Lindy of Greenville as chairman of the public utilities commission, which had been announced last week by Gov. Small, was not sent to the senate.

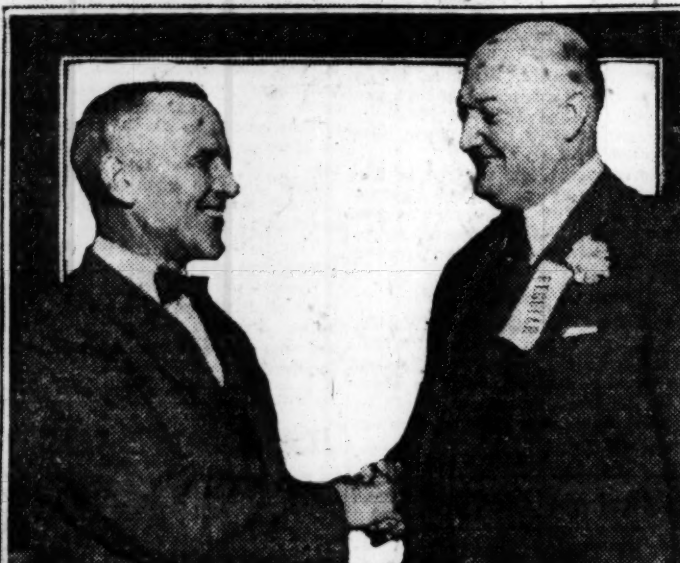

Sanborn Fight Not Off.

The situation as to Gen. Sanborn is that the administration has found itself shy of votes to put through its program, whether or not it included Sanborn. The downstate senators were here almost solidly for Sanborn, and after protracted maneuvering the agreement was reached that the Sanborn matter would be forgotten, provided Gov. Small's cabinet could be

LAKE TO HUDSON LINK BLOCKED BY U. S. ENGINEERS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 18.—[Special.]—War department engineers have reported adversely on the construction of the ship channel between the great lakes and the Hudson river, designed to secure a waterway admitting ocean going vessels to the lakes.

In a report presented to congress, Maj. Gen. Lansing H. Beach, chief of engineers, approves findings of district and division engineers and of the boards of engineers, rivers and harbors, that the project is inadvisable at present.

The report does not affect the proposed deepening of the St. Lawrence by joint action of the United States and Canada, now under consideration by the international joint commission.

Summarized, the engineers' conclusions follow:

"That if a waterway were built admitting ocean going vessels to the great lakes by way of the Hudson river, it appears probable it would not be used by such vessels to any appreciable extent, but mostly by barges or possibly lake freighters, for whose use a much smaller and cheaper canal would be sufficient."

KAHN URGES U. S. REPRISALS FOR CABLE CENSORING

Philadelphia, Jan. 18.—Retaliation against any nation retarding, censoring, or making use of American cable messages was advocated by Representative Kahn, California, chairman of the Philadelphia Traffic club.

Mr. Kahn mentioned recent testimony before a senate committee that various European nations took control of American cable messages passing through their territories, at times holding them up for hours.

"This practice," he added, "creates an intolerable condition for American merchants or business interests. I feel that an act of congress might well be introduced and adopted at the earliest practicable date to the effect that when any country, in time of peace, retards or censors, or makes use of cable messages emanating in the United States and passing through such foreign country for delivery in that or any other foreign country, the cable messages which have their origin in the foreign country so offending shall likewise be held, censored or made use of for business purposes by the officials of the government of the United States."

HAS ILLINOIS FORGOTT?

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 18.—[Special.]—State Senator James J. Barbour of the Eleventh district, in an address tonight at the "Fathers and Sons" dinner at the Westminster Presbyterian church of Springfield, handled the Sanborn affair without gloves.

"What now concerns us most," said Senator Barbour, "is whether military service in the world war counts for anything in Illinois. Do the men in control of the administration of our state and municipal governments intend to give public recognition to those who were actuated by such supreme and exalted spirit of sacrifice as revealed itself on French battlefields?"

"On every hand are evidences that the spoilsman and the precinct bell pusher and the cowboy buccannier that surmounted many a ballot box barricade are to supplant the returned soldier now holding public employment on the basis of fitness and loyal service in foreign wars."

A conspicuous example of those whom our illustrious Gov. Lowden thus honored is Maj. Gen. Joseph B. Sanborn, who wears six decorations for bravery in action, presented by Great Britain, Belgium, France, and our own United States. Can it be possible that the public conscience will permit a national hero of the caliber of Gen. Sanborn to be struck down by the spoilsman as?

C. A. A. ELECTS MOHR PRESIDENT AFTER HOT FIGHT

Insurgents Win; Vote Is Heaviest in History.

In a spirited election, marked by the heaviest balloting in the history of the Chicago Athletic Association, William J. Mohr, the members' "insurgent" candidate for the presidency, defeated Fred Y. Coffin of the regular ticket yesterday. Mr. Mohr won by twenty-five votes. The total vote was 1,759, which established a record.

The "insurgent" ticket also won three of five of the directors, while the regular ticket elected the vice president and the secretary.

Newly Elected Officers.

Beside Mr. Mohr, the officers are: Charles F. Thompson, regular, vice president; Robert E. Kenyon, regular, secretary; Lucius Teter, on both tickets, treasurer; Oliver R. Hogue, regular; Edward E. Swadener, regular; William H. Powell, members'; Harold Dryden, members'; and Adolph Otto Spielmann, members', directors. The latter serve for a term of three years.

The voting started at noon and the polls closed at 6 p. m. The club was filled with lobbyists, candidates and voters. Each new arrival was buttonholed by followers of the different candidates and showered with literature and advice on how to vote.

Ticket Split by New President.

It was Mr. Mohr who split the ticket. It had been the custom for years for the nominating committee to put up the old vice president for president. But instead of Mr. Mohr, who had been vice president, the nominating committee named Mr. Coffin. Then Mr. Mohr's friends placed him in the running. He defeated Mr. Coffin by a vote of 867 to 842. The election of Mr. Thompson as vice president was hailed with joy by his numerous friends. For the good of the club and the sake of harmony in the administration of its affairs Mr. Coffin should be selected its president," the regular wrote. The latter was signed by Richard J. Collins, ex-president; Evan Evans, Francis S. Peabody, David E. Gann, Robert H. Hunter, D. F. Kelly, Edward E. Swadener, Everett C. Brown, Herbert Templeton, George B. Dryden, James G. Condon, W. Rufus Abbott, S. N. Crawford, F. A. Price, Fred Bartlett, and E. K. Orr.

CAFETERIA IN LIBRARY'S PLACE STIRS RESIDENTS

Action Planned to Save
Sheridan Branch.

Shall the Sheridan branch library be replaced on May 1 by a restaurant? This is the question that has aroused the residents in the vicinity of Broadway and North Racine avenue, following reports that the building at 4736 North Racine avenue would have to be abandoned in favor of an eating place.

A movement has been started with the Rev. J. H. Haslam, pastor of St. Simon's church, at the head to keep the library at its present location. Should this project fail, an endeavor is to be made to raise sufficient money to purchase property at North Racine and Leland avenues, where the library may be installed.

Frost Is Aroused.

"It is a shame," said Father Haslam last night, "that the institution, which is the fourth largest in the city, should pass out of existence. I understand that the property has been leased by Herman Shapiro for the purpose of starting a cafeteria."

The principal of the Graeme Stewart school will announce the closing of the library to the students of the school today and they will be urged to enlist their parents in the fight to save the institution.

Owned by Judge Dever.

The building, which is owned by Judge William E. Dever, has been leased for ten years to Herman Shapiro of 4944 St. Lawrence avenue for a consideration of $100,000. According to the record of the deal Mr. Shapiro is to open a cafeteria.

The library, of which Miss Jessie Reed is librarian, employs six civil service and four temporary employees. It consists of 11,500 books. The record of withdrawals for 1920 was 212,481, an increase of 10,000 over the previous year.

Bandits Hold Up Coal Man.

Three armed bandits escaped in a black colored limousine yesterday after they had held up a clerk in the George B. Hinners company's coal office at 1405 Elston avenue and robbed the company of between $75 and $100.

U. S. RUM COLONY IN CUBA A MYTH; REVELERS FEW

Not Many Americans at Havana Hotels.

By ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
HAVANA, Jan. 15.—(Special Correspondence.)—I am leaving Havana without having seen one of the great rum colonies, exiled by the eighth amendment to this handy oasis where personal liberty still flourishes. I had been informed there was hardly a standing room in Cuba for the hundreds of Americans who had departed to a land where they might enjoy alcoholic solace without breaking the law. I remembered the rosy picture of gay café scenes—male and female Americans splashing champagne about, with John J. McGraw, the baseball magnate, just lifting a fresh one from the silver bucket. I was fully prepared to be treated to such a sight at the first American hotel here into which I stepped, though it was the middle of the forenoon.

Falls to Find Revelers.
It looks like a dull day at this hotel. Half a dozen American tourists were dining over the only morning newspaper printed in the English language and the bar was totally deserted. I wandered through the other American hotels, finding the same conditions. By the middle of the afternoon the most popular American bar boasted a patronage of some twenty-five or thirty men, of whom not more than ten were Americans, while the remainder were gilded Cuban youths. In the palm garden you might count fifteen or twenty American men and women lingering over their tea, with here and there a cocktail in evidence. Things livened up a bit at dinner. In the dining room of the most pretentious American hotel you might see upwards of fifty or sixty Yanks, perhaps half of whom were decorously and somewhat abstemiously indulging in alcoholic stimulant. Nowhere could I find anything approximating the widespread revelry of unloathed big game Americans I had been led to expect. There was a good deal of dancing but at midnight sharp the orchestra stopped and folks went to bed peacefully sober.

Quiet at Race Track, Too.
Then I was told I would find the American colony at the race track. I journeyed thither of an afternoon and found a crowd of perhaps 10,000 persons betting to their hearts' content and several hundred dancing between the grandstands. There were possibly 200 Americans in the grandstand or on the veranda of the clubhouse. I finally concluded the rum colony is a myth. American travel to Cuba has fallen off tremendously. The American hotels, which can accommodate several hundred persons at once, were jammed last winter, but have more room than guests this season. "The hotels here killed the goose that laid the golden egg," was one explanation advanced by a New Yorker who has been here for twenty-two years. "The only hotels here in which you can be comfortable as at home jumped their rates to $20 a day for a single, $30 for a double room, European plan."

Finds One Self-Exiled.
I found only one American, permanently self-exiled because of the eighth amendment and he turned out to be a veritable man without a country. He is a telegraph operator who had lived in Texas near the Mexican border for many years. "When prohibition went into effect I said good-bye to God's country," he explained. "I came here and if they ever annex Cuba to the United States and that makes Cuba dry, why I guess I'll move on to the nearest wet spot. With me personal liberty is a principle and I believe in a man sticking to his principles."

This man said that whatever sentiment ever had existed in the island favoring annexation to the United States had died out because of the fear that prohibition, like the constitution, would "follow the flag."

Fear U. S. Will Stop Gambling.
By others I was told that prohibition had naught to do with the question at all, that the great mass of the Cubans care nothing for alcoholic liquor, preferring the fermented fruit juices dispensed at almost every corner. Gambling, I was told, is the real Cuban passion and it is the preservation of his sacred personal liberty to gamble which the Cuban is jealous. What

BACK TO RUSSIA, BUT NOT AS REDS!

Five of the fifty-seven Chicago Russians who are returning to Lenin and the soviets; not because they particularly like to, or because they are Bolsheviks, but because their folks are still over there and Uncle Sam will not let them bring the folks here. They are not Bolsheviks; the way they grip the flag would show that, even if they had not said so flatly. In order to return they had to renounce the American form of government for the soviets. Left to right in foreground—Illica Chelzik, Trinof Rechik, Afanacius Boyduk, Andrew Nopchokrik, and George Pippo.

TAKE FREEDOM'S MESSAGE

CHICAGO yesterday bade adieu to fifty-seven Russians, who are going back to Bolshevikia. Each carried a two foot American flag, presented by the West Side Trust and Savings bank, under whose auspices their departure was conducted. They are voluntarily renouncing the American form of government for that of Lenin and Trotsky because they cannot bring their wives, families, or sweethearts to the United States. They wish to be near them.

There was only one woman in the party, the wife of Stepanovich Gushkovich. She came here from Moscow to be married to him eight years ago. Her parents still live there.

Harold J. Beskin, manager of the foreign department of the bank, directed the departure. The Russians left over the Grand Trunk at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. They will arrive in Halifax, N. S., at 5:30 p. m. today. They will go to Hamburg, Germany, by boat, thence by train to Eydkaunen, on the Lithuanian border, and on to soviet Russia. Each of the fifty-seven is from a different town.

All declared yesterday that they were anti-Bolshevik and that the American freedom they had imbibed would be carried, along with their American flags, into the heart of soviet Russia.

he fears is that, once his country were annexed to the United States there would be no gambling. No more public lottery, no betting on jai alai, the baseball of Cuba. The traveler to these parts finds a delightful eternal summer, sees some interesting sights, meets charming, cultivated Cubans, and altogether spends an enjoyable holiday. But it is expensive. Food in and out of the restaurants costs more than at home. So do clothing and all other articles. Practically everything except sugar, tobacco, and a few tropical fruits is imported from the United States.

Get U. S. Goods; Pay Double.
Needing thin clothing in January, you get no native product, but American Palm Beach suits made by a millionaire Maine congressman, and you pay 50 per cent more than at home. You want a Panama hat, which costs you more than it does in New York or Chicago, and you find all the Cubans wearing American suitors costing from $2 to $10. When it comes to straw hats, we have the advantage of the Cubans.

They don't know what it is to need a ton of coal, though the price is $18; they never need a new overcoat, but with their eternal summer there never comes a time when a new straw hat can be bought for 95 cents, as it can with us in September.

Instead of coal, the Cubans find ice a necessity the year around, and it costs 1 cent a pound—artificial ice, of course. A Cuban household will use fifteen or sixteen tons of ice a year at $20 a ton.

$1,400,000 U. S. OWES RUSSIANS CAN'T BE PAID

Washington, D. C., Jan. 18.—(Special.)—The United States shipping board owes about $1,400,000 to the volunteer Russian fleet, which cannot be paid until it is determined who will give a valid receipt, a responsibility which Boris Bakmeteff, the Russian ambassador to the United States, says he cannot assume. It was learned at the state department today.

The shipping board will hold the money in trust until it can be established who is entitled to receive it, despite the action of the French foreign office in making public a statement by agents of the Wrangel government, now defunct, that the money should be paid now, to be used for the aid of Russian refugees, and implying that the French government indorses that view.

The United States shipping board during the war used vessels belonging to the volunteer Russian fleet. That fleet was created by the imperial Russian government and was inherited by the Kerensky government.

Roosevelt 2 Cent Piece

Favored by Committee

Washington, D. C., Jan. 18.—A Roosevelt 2 cent piece is favored by the house coinage committee, which today reported favorably a senate bill authorizing the coin. The committee's report said there was "genuine need" for a 2 cent piece and coinage of one, as proposed in the senate bill, would be "a fitting manner in which to honor the memory of a great American."

SENATE BALKS AT WILSON'S RECESS APPOINTMENTS

Refuses to Confirm Men in High Positions.

By GRAFTON WILCOX.
Washington, D. C., Jan. 18.—(Special.)—The senate today abruptly checked efforts of President Wilson, Secretary Baker, and Secretary Daniels to pack the army and navy with appointees of their own selection, thus fastening upon a new administration their own policies of conducting these important departments.

With the opening of the senate session at noon, Democrats launched an unexpected drive to force the Republicans to abandon their avowed determination to hold up every appointment by President Wilson for the remainder of his term.

Wilson Appointments Blocked.
After two hours of spirited debate and parliamentary fencing, the Republicans still controlled the situation and it had been virtually settled that no more Wilson nominations would be confirmed, with the exception of about 5,000 minor officers commissioned last summer under the army reorganization act. These were regarded as mere formal appointments.

Discussion of the more vital issue of major appointments began when Senator Fletcher, Florida, Democrat, called up his resolution asking the postmaster general to furnish to the senate a list of the names of war veterans, or the widows of men killed in the war who have been nominated as postmasters or postmistresses. Senator Townsend, Michigan, Republican, promptly moved to pigeonhole the measure by referring it to the post-office committee. The motion was carried by a strict partisan vote.

Senator Robinson, Arkansas, Democrat, made several ineffectual attempts to force the senate into executive session to consider the nominations made by President Wilson at this session. The Republicans quickly voted the measure down.

Underwood Talks of "Crime."
Senator Underwood, Democratic leader, then proposed a unanimous consent agreement to deal with army and navy appointments. He said he had no fault to find with the Republicans for taking advantage of their control to hold up all civil nominations, but it would be nothing short of "a crime" to permit politics to interfere with the confirmation of military appointments.

A large number of these, he said, were made by the president under his recess authority, and unless the senate confirmed them now they would expire on March 4.

Senator Lodge, Republican leader, said he was not inclined to hold up such appointments, but he emphatically declared that under no circumstances would he permit the confirmation of appointments of bureau chiefs and other high army and navy officials.

No Bureaus to Be Packed.
"Some of these appointments will have to be considered very carefully," he said. "If I can prevent it, I will not permit the bureau of the war and navy departments to be packed to hamper the next administration."

It was finally agreed to refer "original appointments," consisting largely of army lieutenants and captains, to the military affairs committee to be sifted. Assurances later were given that these would be confirmed. The appointment of eleven major generals and several thousand other war department officials will have to wait along with practically all other nominations in all other departments. The senate naval committee discussed the naval expansion of world powers with Admiral Coontz, and evinced special interest in Japan's building program.

KLOOR IGNORES FIGHT IN INQUIRY BY NAVAL BOARD

Smiles at Reporters "Laying for" Story.

Rockaway, N. Y., Jan. 18.—Carefully avoiding mention of the fist fight between Lieuts. Hinton and Farrell, which brought to a surprising denouement their recent balloon flight into Canadian wilds and their tramp back to civilization, Lieut. Louis A. Kloor Jr., who commanded the party, described their experiences in detail today before the court of inquiry ordered by Secretary of the Navy Daniels.

Picks Words with Care.
Picking his words with care, Lieut. Kloor paid high praise to the conduct of his companions until they reached Mattie, where the altercation occurred.

After explaining that "it would have been as easy as falling off a log" for the party to have landed at Wells, N. Y., on the evening they left here, Lieut. Kloor said they failed to locate Wells on a chart before going onward. When they asked inhabitants 100 feet below them how far it was to Albany, he added, the only replies were: "How should we know?"

A new fact brought out was that the official log had been destroyed after Kloor and Hinton had written their 10,000 word narrative, which they planned to sell for publication.

No Particular Hero.
During the weeks they spent in ice-banded forests at Moose Factory and in trudging through the snow back to civilization, Lieut. Kloor said each of the men "made sacrifice after sacrifice." He did not think there "was any one particular hero."

"The conduct of Lieuts. Hinton and Farrell, on our return from Mattie to this station," he continued, "was in no way questionable."

Concluding his testimony, Lieut. Kloor turned to the press table and smiled at a dozen newspaper men who were amusing themselves discussing his apparent evasion of the question on the aeronauts' conduct. He was then excused by the court.

Kloor said the balloon would be returned by the Canadian air service, but it might be delayed until Sept. 1 because of weather conditions.

Lioness in Dentist Chair; She's Tied, Tooth Pulled
New York, Jan. 18.—(Special.)—"Queenie," Prospect park's 9 year old African lioness, had her teeth pulled this afternoon.

Dr. John S. Gillespie, park veterinarian, was the dentist. "Queenie" was lassoed and her feet "hog tied."

The lioness was a gift from the borough school children about two years ago. Recently she began to have a case of "nerves." She roared most of the time. John O'Brien, head keeper, found she slightly had a loose toothache. One of her molars was in very bad condition. It isn't now.

TELLS OF CHILD'S DEATH.
Mrs. Mary Kaczmarek, wife of Joseph Kaczmarek, who caused the death of their 2 year old daughter in their home Monday by placing the end of a tube in her mouth, and turning on the gas at the other end, testified at the inquest that twice before her husband had attempted to commit suicide. The father is at the county hospital recovering.

A Camorra feud flared into action yesterday when a man believed to be Pizzo of 1333 Clybourn avenue was killed in front of a pharmacy at 1240 Larrabee street. Four men emptied their revolvers at him, then disappeared.

Lieut. John Norton later arrested three suspects. They are held at the detective bureau. They refuse to talk. Two of them are Sam Bongiorno, 1333 Clybourn avenue, and John Bukivitch of 418 Larrabee street. The police are withholding the third man's name.

Detective Sergeant William Blau said a Camorra feud has been pending for some time; that a phase of it developed last Sunday in the shooting of an Italian at Sholto and Harrison streets. He died at the county hospital without being identified.

CLYNE STARTS INQUIRY INTO DRY CHIEF'S METHODS

Questions Stone's Aids on Granting of Permits.

In an effort to discover how Daniel Collins, a wholesale liquor dealer, obtained five cases of whisky on an illegal permit, the district attorney's office began an investigation yesterday of the methods used by Ralph W. Stone, prohibition director, in granting permits for the withdrawal of whisky.

Every person in Mr. Stone's office who deals directly with applications for permits by wholesalers was called before Commissioner Mason and questioned when Collins was arraigned. They testified permits are granted in all cases unless the dealer has withdrawn more than his allotted monthly amount or has been placed on the black list.

May Recommend Changes.
Assistant District Attorney Weist, who conducted the examination, declared recommendations for changes in methods employed by Mr. Stone will be made if laxity is found.

Director Stone was not at the hearing, as he had left earlier in the day for Springfield to investigate charges of liquor violations there.

Raid Two Saloons.
Prohibition agents from the office of Elliot Evans, acting dry chief in the absence of Frank D. Richardson, made two raids, seizing a quantity of moonshine and whisky. One saloon raided was that of J. E. Delaney, 6318 North Clark street. Delaney was arrested after he admitted that a safe in a corner of his office contained three gallons of whisky.

15 Barrels of Alcohol Stolen.
Agents from the Chicago office of the Jefferson Distilling and Denaturing company at Harvard, La., reported to railroad and federal officials that fifteen barrels of alcohol had been stolen from a carload shipment recently sent to Chicago. The alcohol was consigned to the Central Cold Storage company, 327 North Clark street.

According to information received the seals on the car were not touched until the shipment reached Peoria.

THREE HEROINES SAVE HUNDREDS AT MOVIE FIRE

Audience Escapes; Two Men Burned.

Explosion of films in the plant of the American Film company at 227 Broadway late yesterday afternoon started a fire that gutted the plant, killed three girls, and severely injured two men.

That there was not great loss of life in the plant and the theater is the firmest asset, to the heroism of three girls. They are Miss Gladys Tremaine, 4747 Sheridan road, manager of the theater, whose quick thinking and action saved all that was in the plant among the children and other patrons; Miss Caroline Kreiman, 4113 North Maplewood avenue, an employee of the film company, who saved the life of one of the men burned and helped others to safety; and Miss Anna Barrett, 6442 Cleveland avenue, another employee, who gave the alarm.

Films Feed Flames.

The building, which was nearly destroyed, was a two-story brick structure with studios formerly used in the making of moving pictures. Thousands of feet of film, stored in the building and in the process of manufacture, fed the flames as few materials would. The firemen found it an impossibility to check the blaze until the films had been consumed.

The explosion came while the building was full of employees. No one could tell exactly how it happened. Frederick Dipp, 41 years old, of 4333 North Oakley boulevard, was in the storage room when it came. His clothing caught fire. He rushed to the hall and ran about aimlessly in a panic of fear. Miss Kreiman, running from the place, saw him, threw her cloak around him, and beat out the flames.

J. Herbert Hutchinson, 6231 Sheridan road, son of the president of the concern, Samuel S. Hutchinson, was standing in the hall on the second floor when the explosion came. The floor bulged up and he was toppled over. He aided many in leaving the building.

Girl Turns In Alarm.

Miss Barrett, hearing the explosion and the quickly following cries of "fire," ran to a switchboard and tried to turn in an alarm. The operator was too slow, she said, and she had to run across the street to a drug store to get an answer. She then returned and helped others from the building.

In the theater, Miss Tremaine ran to the stage when she learned of the fire and, in a calm voice, asked the children to leave.

"A little trouble has arisen which will make it impossible to continue the picture for several minutes," she said. "Now, I'm going to ask that you children add your groupings march out of the theater in an orderly manner and you can go back to the picture and the patrons walked out quietly."

SANTIAGO, Chile, Jan. 18.—The Toyo Kisen Kaisha Japanese steamship line, which was subsidized by the Japanese government to maintain regular sailings between Japan and the west coast of South America, is planning to suspend its service to the United States and to double its present service to Chile and establish service with Mexico, according to Mr. Amari, chargé d'affaires in the Japanese legation here.

San Francisco, according to the press, will be omitted as a port of call. The steamers calling only at Honolulu and some Mexican port en route to Chile.

Amari said the Mexican port probably would be Salina Cruz.

SUSPECT NABBED FOR $60,000 GEM RAIDS ON HOTELS

Californian Protests Arrest; Denies All.

Investigating a series of daring hotel robberies in Chicago's loop, in which jewelry valued at more than $60,000 was obtained, police and Pinkertons last night detained at the detective bureau Edwin Marks, a fashionably dressed youth, who had just arrived here from California.

They interrogated him particularly concerning the robbery last Nov. 8 at the Hotel Sherman, when $25,000 in diamonds and other jewelry disappeared from the sample trunks of Arthur Reich, member of a New York jewelry firm. No trace of the jewelry was ever found.

Protests Against Arrest.

Marks protested his arrest as unjust and unwarranted, declaring he was a reputable business man dealing in stocks and bonds. He displayed telegrams from many cities. Those dealt with stock transactions. He was a guest at the Hotel Sherman. He was held without being booked.

Marks was escorted to the detective bureau by Detective Sergeants Edward Birmingham and John McGinnis and Assistant Superintendent John Norbert and George Goodwin of the Pinkerton detective agency.

They conducted him to the bureau of identification, where, Detective Sergeants McGinnis and Birmingham said, a reformatory and prison record was found.

Six Pictures of Him.

There are six pictures of Marks in the bureau of identification, the detectives say. Marks declined to comment on the alleged record.

Finger prints which the detectives obtained in the Hotel Sherman robbery will be compared with those of Marks this morning.

Fayette Munro, Noted for Tax Suits, Is Ill

Fayette Munro, prominent Chicago attorney, is seriously ill at his residence in Highland Park. It was learned last night. He is suffering from pernicious anemia, according to attending physicians, and they hold little hope for his recovery.

Several months ago Mr. Munro suffered a breakdown in health as a result of overwork.

Mr. Munro attained unusual prominence when he brought suit against the state in the interest of the taxpayers to enjoin the payment of appropriations alleged to have been made in violation of the constitution. In many of his arguments he was sustained by the Supreme court of Illinois.

WIFE ASKS FOR DIVORCE FROM ROYAL C. VILAS

Says He Left Her for Another Woman.

The matrimonial difficulties of Royal C. Vilas, wealthy north side clubman, were brought to a climax yesterday when Mrs. Mary R. A. Vilas filed suit for divorce. It was over the telephone. Mrs. Vilas' petition asserts that her husband notified her he was "through with his home and intended to live with another woman."

Finds Husband Gone.

Mrs. Vilas, who for many years has been prominent as a sponsor for the affairs of the Home for Crippled Children, made public the details of her husband's sudden desertion in the divorce papers. Following Vilas' suggestion, she says she and her two children spent the summer of 1920 outside of Chicago. They returned home on Sept. 15, and found Vilas gone. Subsequently he made the telephonic explanation, she avers.

The divorce bill does not name the "vampire woman" with whom Vilas, the president of the Pyle National company of 1324 North Kostner avenue, is alleged to be living. The woman's identity is said to be unknown to Mrs. Vilas.

Prominent in Club Life.

Vilas, the son of the late Royal C. Vilas, former president of the New York Air Brake company, has been prominent for many years in business, social, and club activities. He has been identified prominently with the affairs of the Union League, Illinois Athletic, Evanston Golf, and Thousand Island Yacht clubs.

He was expelled from membership in the South Shore Country club in January of 1909. Vilas, it was reported, having imbibed of a Manhattan cocktail, hurled a plate of salad at a fellow member, George C. Jerome, plastering the salad over his face.

Mrs. Vilas before her marriage was Miss Mary Armstrong, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Armstrong of Baltimore. She is now living at 230 East Delaware place. The couple were married fifteen years ago.

Recalls Brother's Death.

It was about a year ago that Ward A. Vilas, a brother of the defendant in the present divorce proceedings, and like him a well known figure in club life, was found dead in a room at the Plaza hotel. His brothers, Royal and "Jack," an army aviator, attributed the tragedy to an accidental overdose of veronal.

At the time of his death, Vilas was a defendant in divorce action instituted by his wife on charges of habitual drunkenness.

ERWIN BERGDOLL ASKS FREEDOM AT LEAVENWORTH

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 18.—Counsel for Erwin R. Bergdoll of Philadelphia, now confined in the disciplinary barracks at Leavenworth, Kan., on a charge of desertion, filed today a petition for a writ of habeas corpus. They demand his release.

It seems the attorneys will carry the case to the United States Supreme court. Hearings on the application probably will be Feb. 15, before U. S. Judge John C. Pollock, at Kansas City, Kan.

The lawyers argue that Bergdoll is held in violation of his constitutional rights as a citizen. They contend that the desertion charge is based on an article of selective service regulations now null and void and beyond the power of the president; that the notice he received for military service had been served only nine days before his arrest and that ten days are allowed before a man is regarded as a deserter. In view of this latter fact, it is contended that he never was in the military service.

YAQUI INDIANS HIT WARPATH; LOOT 2 TOWNS

Nogales, Ariz., Jan. 18.—A band of Yaqui Indians has resumed the war path and today killed three Mexican cowboys and looted a ranch at Cruz Piedras, eight miles south of Guaymas, Sonora, according to official advices reaching the border tonight.

Yaquis yesterday looted towns of Coconito and La Dura, also south of Guaymas, according to the advices. Both towns are in the Yaqui valley, long claimed by the Indians as their rightful home. No loss of life was reported.

WOMAN KILLED BY CAR.

Mrs. Minnie Wright, 57 years old, 9218 Phillips avenue, died at the Illinois Central hospital last night of injuries received earlier in the day when she was struck by a Stouy Island avenue street car at Sixty-fifth street.

A. I. LAUER, U. S. TAX CASE BRIBER, KILLS HIMSELF

Takes Gas to Escape 3
Years in Prison.

Haunted by the fact that he was facing a three year prison term for the attempted bribery of a federal official, Albert I. Lauer, former secretary and treasurer of Briggs & Turville, a $1,000,000 salvage concern, committed suicide yesterday in his home, 646 Margate terrace, by inhaling gas.

A. I. LAUER.
(Koenig Photo.)

The body was found sitting in a chair with the head leaning against the kitchen stove from three burners of which gas was escaping. A note addressed to the coroner and signed A. I. Lauer, was found. It read:

"My case is a simple, plain, self destruction of a man losing his mind, fearing insanity and choosing therefore eternal rest and peace. I forgive all my enemies, bless those that curse me and wish good to those that hated or persecuted me."

Wife Away at the Time.

Mrs. Catherine Lauer, the widow, had been visiting her 13 year old daughter, who is attending school at St. Mary's academy at Nauvoo, Ill. She came in just as the police, who had been called by neighbors, were examining the body. Mrs. Lauer became hysterical when she saw the body.

She was cared for by physicians and was able to testify at the inquest later. She told Deputy Coroner Kennedy that her husband had often talked of suicide.

Lauer was well known in sporting circles. He was under sentence of three years in the federal penitentiary and a fine of $4,000 imposed by Judge Landis for attempting to bribe an internal revenue collector.

Offers $30,000 Bribe.

Last February Charles Calmer, employed in the office of the income tax collector, examined the books of Briggs & Turville and found discrepancies amounting to more than $78,000. He called these to the attention of Mr. Lauer, who, it is charged, offered to make Calmer office manager of the concern with a salary of $6,000 a year. The income tax man refused and then the offer of a bribe of $30,000 was made. Calmer reported the offer to District Attorney Charles F. City, who directed him to accept the bribe. After Lauer, in the presence of hidden witnesses, turned over $15,000 he was arrested.

WHY NOT NOW 5 CENTS?

Thompson's traction district scheme, which the city council is asked to endorse and which the legislature is asked to make available to the people, has no relation to the action which the state utilities commission is asked to take in establishing equitable fares.

The utilities commission can recognize the situation as it exists. Thompson's scheme seeks to change the situation. Gov. Small has the present situation in his hands. If Thompson's scheme is ever put into effect it will take a long time. Shall the fares be unchanged in the meanwhile, whether equitable or not?

We do not know whether they are equitable or not. Thompson and Small know they are not. They devoted an entire campaign to saying so. Did they know the fares were equitable and say they were not? If so, that is an interesting revelation of them. If the fares are equitable, Small and Thompson would have to let them stand.

If they are not equitable, why do Small and Thompson, with full power to change them, permit them to stand for a minute longer than necessary? Why do they permit an injustice to be done to the people while the mayor's scheme is being deliberated as it must be? What excuse for this can there be?

Thompson's plan cannot be made effective until the legislature and the people have accepted it, until there have been elections, and until trustees have set an elaborate system of financing, taxation, administration, and operation going. That may take years, with its referendums and elections. Why wait? Is the injustice which Mr. Small and Mr. Thompson stand exists in the present fares to continue all this time? Why not a correction of justice, if there is any, now? Why not the 5 cent fare now, if it is possible?

OUR SOUTH AMERICAN RELATIONS ARE DIFFICULT.

An Argentine newspaper of first rank, La Nacion of Buenos Aires, has taken three columns to give the United States some advice. It is, we are confident, friendly advice, for La Nacion has not been one of the many South American journals which seem bent upon misinterpreting our foreign policy.

We hope, therefore, there is grace enough in congress to accept La Nacion's pointed criticism in good spirit and ponder seriously its suggestions. The Argentine view of what is sound tariff policy for the United States is not necessarily wise. It is likely, quite naturally, to be colored by Argentine interest as our opinion of Argentine policy would probably be colored, perhaps unconsciously, by American self-interest. Nevertheless it is worth our while to cultivate good relations with Argentina and other neighbors of ours, it is essential that we should know what their views are, what their needs and wishes are.

The shortcomings of our manners and methods are not unknown to us, but we are inclined to take them as less serious than they are. La Nacion reminds us that we have a good deal to learn from our rivals for the favor of Latin-America and advises us to follow the example of the Germans, British, and French. The journal regrets that Secretary Colby did not remain long enough to hear the hymns of praise to Europe in Argentina and to learn what acts had given rise to so favorable a sentiment. We hope Secretary Colby will return with something better than the innumerable spoils of official compliment. But the next administration need not rely upon any special report, for the factors of the Latin-American problem are not novel or obscure.

The problem is not easy to solve. We realize that our approach is faulty. To the Latin states our manners are unpleasant or at best not ingratiating, and manners are important in Latin life, even in its business affairs. The South American culture is derived from Romance culture and educated South Americans think and feel according to their race and not ours. These are handicaps for us, but we share them with our chief commercial rivals, the British and Germans. That is, we should share them if they did as little to overcome them as we do.

The trouble with us is, however, pride and indifference. We have thought of Latin-Americans as inferiors, because their history has been in many cases turbulent and their national units comparatively small. This attitude is neither informed nor intelligent. It is really mischievous, if we care for good relations with the peoples who live with us on the western continent.

But there is another factor of the problem in its immediate form which we suspect has something to do with La Nacion's criticism. Europe needs Argentine exports, which are raw materials for which Europe is starving. The United States, far from needing raw materials, has a surplus to get rid of. We are competitive, therefore, rather than complementary. In very important lines of commerce, and competition means friction. Yet we wish to enter the Argentine market with our manufactured commodities. We cannot take her grain, meat, or hides, for we have a surplus of these to sell. If we let them in we hurt our own producers. If we keep them out, Argentina is offended.

The United States has one surplus which Argentina needs, and that is capital. England, naturally complementary to Argentina, because she needs Argentine raw materials and has manufactured commodities to exchange for them, was not satisfied with this basis alone, but very wisely strengthened it by investing British capital in Argentina. This encouraged Argentina to buy in England, where credits had been established.

American foreign policy is primitive. We are at a turning point now and we need to review our situation very thoroughly and open-mindedly, the sooner the better. Advice from friendly sources should be especially welcome and we trust La Nacion's remarks will be well considered at the capital.

CONGRESS AND THE ARMY.

Congress has fixed the size of the American regular army at 175,000 men. The senate added 25,000 to the number at which it had fixed the regular troops and the house accepted the revised estimate of the needed strength. Gen. Pershing advised that the number be not less than 200,000, and Secretary Baker was opposed to the congressional reductions.

Congress did not consider the military needs. It does not know that 175,000 men will be enough. Its sources of information are in the war department and it did not heed them. The congressmen have no way of knowing military requirements. They talk considerable nonsense in discussing military matters, as Senator Reed did when he said Great Britain would keep Japan off the United States.

That might be true and it might not be, but Mr. Reed assumes it is and votes accordingly. There is as guiding thought such opinion as Borah's that the army is wanted to police the United States, the suggestion that the soldiers are to tramp down the people.

It is upon such a plane that consideration of American military requirements proceeds in congress. Just at present congress wants to make a record in economy and make it where it will do the congressmen the least harm. The army is the least profitable institution to a congressman.

He gets little out of it. He cannot satisfy many activities or industries by helping it. Shipbuilding trades and corporations are for a big navy. They want to build ships. Ships require shipyards and seaboard communities fight to get shipyards and to retain them. That gives the congressman an incentive to be for shipbuilding.

He needs none to be for public buildings and for rivers and harbors. Industries and localities demand appropriations for them and the congressman is glad to give them. It is only when a necessary but friendless institution such as the army needs funds that the congressman devotes himself ruthlessly to economy. It is the country's misfortune that congress can acquire merit by attacking national defense.

Congress improves its standing with sentimentalists who believe that the purpose of an army is to create wars. It improves its standing with humanitarians who want to abolish armies whether they can abolish war or not. It improves its standing with citizens who hate their taxes and want what they call economy. It improves its standing with people who are afraid that if an army was needed to maintain order it would be used for that purpose.

Congress in the present instance does not know whether it has provided enough troops even for garrison duty in American outposts and it does not care. It has acquired merit with the classes of citizens named and it has not hurt itself politically. It may be bad for the country but it is not bad for congress.

SEX IS SEX.

Mrs. Cleopatra McCrory Brown Hutzmann, who will tell the world she is a vamp, says she has been supporting Mike—she calls her husband Mike—ever since they were married, by luring boob men into traps. The boob men fell for her whenever she appeared and they followed on. She and Mike carried on. She led in the books and Mike polished them off with a piece of pipe or anything handy and took their coin.

Mike liked whiskey and Cleopatra had to supply him with it and the way to get it was for her to show an ankle and roll an eye. She led at least twenty boobies to Mike and his accomplices and Mike cleaned them.

"They're all the same, these men," said Cleopatra, "all boobies. They will go any place blindly that a woman leads them."

Cleopatra was the willing slave of a whiskey artist who wanted the victims of his robbery brought to him in a trap and she devoted her life to taking chances for a man who did not care to take many for himself, at least not as many as the average holdup man takes out on the street on his own.

She did it because she had fallen for Mike. A boob's boob, in skirts or trousers, but Cleopatra didn't see herself.

Editorial of the Day

THE ARTIST DIRECTOR.

[New York Times.]

After divers "temperamental rows" and resignations of executives of the Chicago Opera association, Miss Mary Garden has been appointed general director. It is a post which she ought to fill competently, though ordinarily it is richer in vexations and worries than Salome or Thaïs or Sappho at her diabolical height. The lives of managers of opera have been full of woes. Sound business sense and ability to endure or mitigate the screams and spasms of the artist temperament are the chief qualifications for the job. Miss Garden was born in Aberdeen and brought up among the Yankees of Massachusetts, Connecticut, and Chicago. She should be a good woman of business. For that matter, the most illustrious tenors and sopranos, or many of them, may be described as the most passionately acquisitive persons in the world, with a deliberate and frequently successful method in their madness.

Miss Garden expresses her disbelief in a star regime. "Unfortunately," a large portion of the opera-going public cares little for music and everything for stars. On the other hand, the operatic heavens are by no means thickly stellate. The public may have to give up its delight in stars and console itself with performances by a competent company. It would be a great gain if a real interest in music and appreciation of a praiseworthy or respectable ensemble should gradually drive out that absorbing interest in personality rather than in art which characterizes the astrophiles. With the artists of the company Miss Garden should be able to deal easily as an insider and initiate in all the mysteries of that amusing tribe.

Miss Garden makes a neat pro rata division of opera languages that ought to satisfy everybody but the perfect Wagnerites. She allots 50 per cent to Italian, 25 to French, 15 to English. When Wagner's works can be given in their own complicated language, Italian, French, and German will be put on an equality of 33 1/3 per cent each. "Real American opera in English" is Miss Garden's most cherished hope, but she doesn't cherish it too warmly at present.

"When good opera comes to be written by American and English composers" she will have it performed in English. It is well if this hope is measurably distant. It would surprise and pain many worthy listeners if they could understand a sung word. And so, golden luck to General Director Garden and uninterrupted easy walking to the "ghost."

THAT EXPLAINS IT.

CONSTABULARY SKEPTICISM.

[From the London Times.]

When a man was charged at Old-street Police Court last week with drunkenness a constable said: "He was knocking at a door, and when I went up to him he said he lived there."

A MEMBER of the U. of C. faculty objects that the cave man is only a hero of twentieth century mythology; that we have no records of his love affairs. But a little lack of that sort would not deter Mr. Chesterton from pronouncing a sonorous judgment.

MERCIFULLY SEPARATED.

Sir: A fellow-gadder is sitting opposite me at this writing table. It seems that some old friend of his in Texas, out of work, funds, and food, has written him for aid, and he is replying: "Glad you're so far away, so we won't see each other starve to death."

SHORT FAMILY MISFELICITY.

CHIHUAHUA No. 169.—Mexico City Excelsior.

The odd part of this, Watson, is that in most of the houses the walls are twenty feet high.

THE RESTLESS AGE.

[Final chapter by W. S.]

"She Slog and Conquer" was the poorest home-talent show ever seen in Grandfield. Bud Andrews, already inflamed by liquor and made desperate by jealousy, offered Harry Ellgate another drink when he appeared in the wings. The whiskey contained a good deal of lead and Bud dropped dead in the midst of his eighth drink. Harry, lighting a cigarette, nervously dropped his match and set fire to the opera house. All were killed, including Harry and Emily Harbridge.

When Tom Wickham heard of Emily's death he was calling on Lucille Morland. He fell in a faint and was burned to death in the drawing-room's magnificent fireplace. Lucille, severely injured trying to put him out, died at 9 a. m. the following day in the attractive gauzy things she had chosen for the previous evening. Sophie, her maid, died of grief at 10 a. m. Henry Morland, Lucille's father, passed away at 11 of apoplexy. Herman, the faithful caretaker in the Morland home, died at noon.

Sadie Johnson, daughter of Tom's landlady, went mad when she heard the news at 1 p. m. and bit her mother on one ankle. Mrs. Johnson, already feeble from overwork, died of hydrophobia at 2 p. m. The police had to shoot Sadie at 3 p. m. Tom's old parents on the farm got word of his death and jumped off the silo at 4 p. m.

"WHEN I see a cigar expert listening to his cigar before putting it in his mouth," observes A. A. Milne, "I wish I were as great a man as he. Privately sometimes I have listened to a cigar, but it has told me nothing. The only way I can tell whether it is good or bad is by smoking it."

OH VERY WELL, LET'S NOT ARGUE ABOUT IT.

Sir: On page 83, section 2, footnote 2, immigration laws of the United States of Feb. 5, 1917, we find: "Any American woman who marries a foreigner shall take the nationality of her husband. This provision is constitutional and MEANS EXACTLY WHAT IT SAYS."

"THINK before you drink!" advises the uplifting American. But as there is seldom a choice nowadays, a simple "Don't case if I do" suffices.

THE MEN OF THIS FAMILY CAME HOME EARLY.

[From the Kenton, O., News-Republican.]

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Shuman, Mrs. Lulu Rarey entertained at her home on W. Franklin street Friday evening. The affair was in the form of a miscellaneous shower and many beautiful gifts were received by Mrs. Shuman, among which was a rolling pin. The relic has been in the Shuman family for five generations.

"THE members of the quartet are John W. Fortune, first tenor; James Weese, Jr., second tenor; J. Stanley Mitchell, first bass, and H. H. Smith, second bass."—Illinois State Journal.

THE VETERAN.

A sad-eyed Eli faltered,
As he swallowed his home brew.
And said, "I nevermore will get
A good old-fashioned stew.
For me can drink the raisin,
For I was drunk at Mory's,
Old Mory's down at Yale."

His comrade said, "Come home with me
And you need not repine,
For I have ten gallons
Of heavy home-brewed wine.
I know it, for I have tried
My champagne mixed with ale;
I too was drunk at Mory's,
Old Mory's down at Yale."

So they went home and sampled
That heavy home-made wine,
And first he tried a tumbler,
And then he tried a stein;
But still his eye was clear and cold,
And still his nose was pale,
For he'd been drunk at Mory's,
Old Mory's down at Yale."

DOUBLE BARREL.

A RATHER unreasonable author protests to the Athenaeum: "I suggest that a reviewer should not venture upon hostile criticisms of a book which has obviously cost a good deal of work, unless he has at least found time to read the preface."

BRIGHT SAYINGS OF THE LAUNDRESS.

Sir: I remarked to my laundress, "I hear that the Cunningham boy's funeral is to be tomorrow." "Yes," said she, "my son is to be one of them there ball-bearings."

JAY AYE.

THE American people may approve a tencent inauguration, but secretly they will be disappointed.

PROBABLY STILL TOGETHER.

[From the Cornell, Ill., Journal.]

Joseph Highland and Miss Zelma Gourelley left together Monday, to get married. At time of going to press we have not heard any further particulars.

YOU must say one thing for Mr. Harding: he has convictions, but he doesn't insist on them.

A STUDY IN SYMPTOMS.
THREE certain signs and symptoms which are accepted as being early signs of consumption. Not one of them, however, is exclusively a sign of consumption. In fact, the statement about them always carries the warning: "These are signs which warrant suspicion of consumption. When they (or any of them) are present, there should be a careful, thorough examination. They are:

1. If there is no consumption present, the patient is relieved of unwarranted fears and worries. If it is present, he can regulate his manner of living so as to gain for himself the best possible chance for cure.
2. There is no sign of consumption that is so convincing to the patient as the spitting of blood. He may be doubtful about the importance of a little afternoon temperature, a persisting cough, a slight pallor, slight loss of weight, unwarranted fatigue. He may even say, "tubercle bacilli in his sputum mean nothing to him." "He can't see 'em, and what he can't see he won't believe." But if he spits blood, he tumbles off his high horse and quickly seeks a doctor. He is overcome by trepidation and trembling with fear.
3. Yet Dr. Edward O. Otis gives fourteen causes for bloody sputum other than consumption. They are:
 1. Nosebleed, bleeding from the gums, bleeding from varicose veins located somewhere in the mouth, nose or upper throat.
 2. Gastric ulcer.
 3. Heart disease—mitral stenosis.
 4. Infarcts from emboli in the lungs.
 5. Aneurysm of the aorta.
 6. Bronchitis.
 7. Abscess or gangrene of the lung.
 8. Influenza.
 9. Asthma, emphysema, bronchitis.
 10. Bleeding from the esophagus in cirrhosis of the liver.
 11. Acute specific fevers.
 12. Cancer.
 13. Arthritis or rheumatism.
 14. Unknown causes.

To these might be added vicarious menstruation and perhaps pneumonia, though Dr. Otis may have meant to include pneumonia under influenza or under acute specific fevers.

Of these nosebleed, bleeding from the gums, bleeding from varicose veins, vicarious menstruation, bronchitis, asthma, emphysema, and bronchitis are of no consequence or of little consequence. The rest are of much worry or even of much attention.

Other symptoms of consumption each can in like measure be due to somewhere about a dozen conditions, unrelated to consumption, and many of them are of small consequence. If, then, one or more of these symptoms are noted, why worry yourself sick? Go and get the best examination you can and on the one hand become reassured at all.

TRY CARBOLATE OF ZINC.

W. H. D. writes: "I am a man a little past 50. I have chewed tobacco for at least thirty years. My new year resolution is to quit. Is there any harmless thing I can take to make the ordeal easier? Would you suggest quitting gradually?"

REPLY.

Get some carbolate of zinc tablets. Nibble on one a little whenever the brassy taste begins to die out.

UNUSUALLY ABOVE 17 YEARS.

Miss I. writes: "1. Could a girl of 17 possibly begin training to be a nurse? 2. Would she have to get a college education first or would it be possible to start with a grammar school education and study in the hospital? 3. How long would she have to stay at the hospital to become a nurse? 4. Is there a hospital in Poughkeepsie where she could start training?"

REPLY.

1. The standard schools do not accept pupils at 17.

2. No training school that I know of requires a college education as a prerequisite. Most of them are glad to get grammar school graduates who meet all other requirements.

3. Some hospitals require three years; others two.

4. Yes.

MORE THAN ONE BLOOD TEST.

Mrs. H. G. N. writes: "My husband died last year from what the doctor said was a ruptured aneurysm of the aorta. My blood pressure is now over 250 and there is a black spot in front of my left eye. An oculist said it was a hemorrhage and wanted me to have a blood test and urinalysis. I think it was an insult to me to want a blood test, as I never had such a disease. So I went to another eye doctor and he said the other one was guessing and he gave me a pair of glasses. What do you think I should do?"

REPLY.

If you have a blood pressure of 250, hemorrhages in your eye, and impaired vision, have your blood and urine examined as advised. The luxury of being offended can be afforded by some people but not by those with high blood pressure and eye hemorrhages.

OPERATION IS SIMPLE.

Lucy writes: "I am a girl of 18 years, and my left eye has been 'crossed' since childhood. I have been wearing glasses for the last three years, but the doctor says it won't help. Would you advise an operation? Is it dangerous, and could blindness follow?"

REPLY.

1. Yes.

2. The only danger is that you will lose the sight in that eye. In fact, you are probably blind in that eye now. The operation is a simple one.

JOB SEEMS SAFE.

M. C. writes: "Is there any harm working around battery cars where there are acid? I wear eyeglasses and I would like to know if the acids would be harmful to my eyes by inhaling the fumes."

REPLY.

If there is no danger from splashing or from strong fumes you need not worry about your eyes. Ordinary evaporation will not contribute enough gas to the air to harm you.

VEHICLE TAX.

Mendota, Ill., Jan. 12.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Is there any law which the officials of cities in Illinois can enforce the payment of a wheel tax levied by the officials against automobiles and other vehicles owned by the residents?

DELINQUENT DEBTOR.

Chicago, Jan. 15.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—A person owing me could not pay and left a ring as security. Eighteen months have elapsed and the person does not pay. I do not know his name. I need what is due me and wish to know if I have the right to sell the ring.

REPLY.

You have no technical right to sell unless such was the understanding under which it was left with you, but it is probable that you would run little risk of trouble if you go ahead and sell.

TRIBUTE LAW DEPARTMENT.

WE'RE HARRY, TOO.

Muncie, Ind., Jan. 15.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—I am sorry to report that I have lost my army discharge. I should like to get another and wish you would tell me how to do it. The one I had was not recorded at all.

That's too bad. You can't get another discharge. But if you will write to the office of the adjutant general, U. S. Army, Washington, D. C., telling of your loss he will send you a blank on which you can make application for a certificate of service, which is issued in lieu of lost discharge.

WITHIN THE LAW.

Chicago, Jan. 17.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I saw an article in your column stating that it was illegal to charge 8 per cent on a promissory note.

1. What is the maximum legal rate that can be charged?

2. If this is illegal, why can one buy any number of bonds, issued by reputable concerns, which bear 8 per cent interest?

W. P. M.

1. Seven per cent in case of individuals in Illinois.

2. Clause 7 of section 8 of our new corporation act permits corporations to "borrow money at such rate of interest as the corporation may determine without regard to usury law."

CHEER UP, MEN! YOU CAN DRESS WELL ON $2,000

Comfort First Is Keynote for New Styles.

It isn't so bad after all, men. You can be really well dressed this season for a mere $2,000. It is estimated by the style committee of the Merchant Tailors' association, in session at the Congress. The $2,000 wardrobe should include two golf suits of soft Scotch tweed, motor clothes of hard cloth, a slip-on coat for motor wear, four business suits, cutaway for semi-dress, tuxedo, full dress suit, black silk vest, white silk vest, spring overcoat, winter overcoat, three pongee suits for summer, a sport coat and three lightweight suits.

As to styles it might be a good plan to wait until this morning, when the garment display at the convention will be viewed by judges who will pick the best styles for the season.

Some Advance Tips.
But a few advance tips may be given. "We have become a hard-boiled, practical nation," said L. C. Taylor, chairman of the style committee, "and men this year are going to demand 'comfort first' in clothes that must be reasonably conservative and lasting. Coats will be longer and the majority of them three-button styles. The form fitting design is going out this year."

A. J. Natt, representative of the Chicago Custom Cutters' club, also said the styles will be conservative, and backed up his contention by designing a Chesterfield overcoat right in open meeting. Its lines are not only severely businesslike, but really comfortable.

Past! Confidential!
And now, men, here's something confidential-at least so. Do you realize men of America are dressing like a nation of poor relations, and that the deep and vital meaning of the full dress suit has passed from the lives through the stress of war? As the shame of it swept over some six hundred members of the association who attended the opening session of the convention early in the day, they announced their intention of saving their country from careless clothes and educating it into a new dress suit era.

It seems American men have been wearing dinner jackets on all possible occasions, even when fair women are present, and the tailors have decided to teach them what's what, citing Warren G. Harding as the example.

Mr. Harding's dress suit has the place of honor in the exhibit of some three hundred garments in the convention hall. Its lines are conservative, but its lapels and collar are faced with black silk. Paul Gettem of Toledo is the designer.

Prices cannot come down greatly during the year, according to the style setters. The cost of the better wools has been reduced only slightly, they say, and there will be more handwork than ever on the clothes of 1921. The convention closes Friday.

DIVORCE SUIT IS NEW CHAPTER IN DE KORWIN CASE

For the second time within the last few weeks "Mr. and Mrs. Joseph De Korwin" have sought the aid of the courts in an attempt to settle their several matrimonial and parental difficulties.

Mrs. Cecile Young Heyworth De Korwin added to the number of the family's legal documents on file in the Superior court yesterday when through her attorney, A. S. Trude, she filed a bill for a divorce from the Polish chevalier. Her husband's petition for a writ of habeas corpus asking the custody of his son, Stanislaus, is now pending in Judge McKinley's court.

Desertion Is Charged.
Mrs. De Korwin, the daughter of Otto Young, late millionaire merchant, and the divorced wife of Lawrence Heyworth, seeks freedom from her second husband on grounds of desertion. She avers that she married De Korwin in Paris, France, June 22, 1911, and that he deserted her Aug. 1, 1914.

The first hearing on De Korwin's petition for the custody of his son, 7 years old, took a sensational turn when Attorney Trude told the court that the husband had forced his Chicago wife to pay off a score of morganatic wives at the time of the Paris nuptials.

Sees Monetary Motive.
Since then, Attorney Trude averred, Mrs. De Korwin had done little save finance her husband. Monetary reasons, he charged, were even back of the attempt to gain the custody of Stanislaus.

The habeas corpus hearing was continued until Jan. 28, on motion of attorneys for both Mr. and Mrs. De Korwin. It was then explained that a settlement might be effected outside of the court. Friends of the two were wondering yesterday if the divorce suit was the settlement anticipated.

The bill provides that a wife may assume the status of an employee in her home, which would permit her to recover damages for injuries sustained while performing household duties, under the Taft workmen's compensation law.

Where Is the
in American Business?

Look at business conditions in this country today and what do you find?

Money enough to finance the world, food to spare, an abundance of basic raw materials and the means of economically converting them into finished products.

Fundamentally this country is safe and sound.

Yet there's a missing link—a lack of driving power to keep merchandise moving through the channels of industry.

Confidence is that missing link—the only thing needed to make 1921 a record breaking year.

Manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers all depend on each other for business prosperity. And all depend finally on the buying public. A freely buying public sends a buying impulse all the way down the line—through the retailer and wholesaler to the manufacturer. When the public curtails its buying the entire line of distribution feels it.

Confidence will breed good will and stimulate buying. If every one buys normally, American industry will forge ahead.

Every individual and every business organization has responsibility to accept in carrying business forward this year.

Makers of Mosinee Kraft accept their share. The 1921 program is dominated by the will to go ahead with confidence. They are prepared to supply the most efficient wrapping paper at the lowest possible cost.

Mosinee Kraft is the first and only standardized wrapping paper. It averages a point per pound. Never overruns its basis weight.

Lighter weights are used by buyers of Mosinee. No excess weight to pay for. More yards per pound and per dollar. Quantity output, efficient methods, speed production and standardization make Mosinee the most economical, most efficient wrapping paper for all purposes.

Buy wrapping paper with confidence. That means Mosinee.

More yards per pound. Costs less per yard.

VIEWS OF HOOVER AND GOMPERS ON TOILERS AIRED

Points Vital to Industry Up in Conferences.

BY ARTHUR M. EVANS.

The debate between Samuel Gompers and Herbert Hoover has the eye of the industrial world just now as one of the best auguries of the adjustment period. Labor's problems are regarded largely as an engineering problem.

Much is being said by labor leaders as to the new point of view of the engineers, and in the current issue of the Federationist both Gompers and Hoover shed inside light upon the recent conferences at Washington.

Four Points Stick Out.

Four points which stick out of the discussion, although little was divulged upon them at the time of the sessions, are:

The old "stop-watch-tape-measure" idea of the efficiency stars is now being modified by the theory of production against strain.

Mass production and modern repetitive processes in industry destroy creative instincts in the workers, and one problem is to bring about stimulation. It must be based upon cooperation between workers and management.

The human side of industry is the vital one. The growing trend to give workers a consultative voice is a real step towards "democratization" of industry.

A proportional wage scale—urged by Hoover—under which there would be two or three levels of pay, a worker's compensation thus depending upon his proficiency, character, and stability, and thus removing the complaint that organized labor brings the more proficient craftsman down to the level of the less skilled.

More Skill, More Pay, Plan.

Hoover's idea is that this wage plan should be developed upon the principle of extra-graded compensation for added skill and performance above an agreed basic wage, and in order to give confidence the classification under such scales must be passed upon by representatives of the workers in each shop or department.

The idea is being experimented with. The recent agreement in the Cleveland garment industry controversy contemplates a new scheme of payment in proportion to production, but to be neither piece work nor a bonus system. Thus, all employees are to be guaranteed and paid a minimum protective scale by the week. This is to be arrived at in November each year by conference between employers and the union. When the operatives turn out enough work to fulfill a certain standard of production they get additional pay in proportion to the work they do. A "standard rate" is fixed at 10 per cent above the minimum, and this is to be paid workers who perform a certain quantity of work, which the employers decide to be standard. Above this, proficient workers are paid in direct proportion to the work they accomplish.

Views of Gompers.

Here are two excerpts from the Federationist:

"There was a time," says Gompers, "when the engineering profession viewed the problems of labor from a viewpoint that made helpful conference impossible. That was when Taylorism was rampant, when the stop-

PARIS, Jan. 18.—Madame Catherine Breshkovskaya, "the little grandmother of the Russian revolution," who came to Paris recently from Ruthenia to attend the conference of the remnants of the old Russian duma here, is seriously ill in the Russian hospital at Boulogne, near Paris.

She was taken to the institution last week suffering from a general breakdown and a heart affection. She is in her seventy-seventh year. Her revolutionary activities began when she was at the age of 26. She visited the United States in 1919.

Watch and tape measure were symbols of a cult that dominated a great part of engineering thought.

"The departure of most engineers from that old concept is one of the most hopeful signs of progress and greater freedom. The more thorough members of the engineering profession have discarded the so-called 'efficiency' idea."

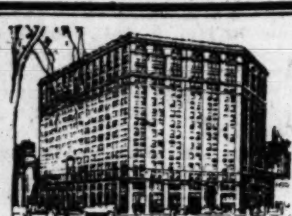

How Hoover Sees It.

"We must take account," says Hoover, "of the tendencies of our present repetitive industries to eliminate the creative instinct in its workers, to narrow their field of craftsmanship, to discard entirely the contribution to industry that could be had from their minds as well as from their hands."

"Indeed, if we are to secure the development of our people, we cannot permit the dulling of these sensibilities. Indeed, we cannot accomplish increased production without this stimulation. Here again we can not make an advance unless we can secure cooperation between employer and employee."

MAN SHOPLIFTER FLEES IN LOOP AS BULLETS FLY

After a thrilling chase through noon crowds in the loop in which two shots were fired, the police captured Harry Monahan, of St. Louis, Mo., who had stolen six silk shirts in a department store. House detectives saw him take the shirts and followed him to the street. They called Traffic Policeman J. J. Mahoney. He seized Monahan, but the latter broke loose and dashed down an alley. Mahoney fired two shots but did not hit the fleeing man. Cries of "Stop him" and "Get that man" went up and a large crowd was in pursuit when Monahan attempted to board a street car. Traffic Policeman F. E. Laakille then seized him. He still carried the six silk shirts.

PLAN TO RUSH UNION STATION WORK PRESENTED

City Officials Get Promise of Haste.

A construction program which would result in the completion of the union station project within two and one-half years was submitted to the city yesterday by Joseph D'Esposito, chief engineer of the Union Station company.

The plan was presented to a committee named by Mayor Thompson and composed of Building Commissioner Westrom, Commissioner of Public Works Francis, Acting Corporation Counsel Breen and City Engineer Combs. The mayor directed the committee to find out why the completion of the work is already two and one-half years overdue and to devise methods of expediting the work.

Program for 1921.

Reconstruction of approach streets and viaducts, including work in Canal, Adams, Taylor, and Polk streets, and Roosevelt road, will be among the features of the 1921 program.

"The many features of the project are so interdependent and so many interests are affected that Mr. D'Esposito's program must be carefully studied before being approved," Mr. Combs said. "Unless this is done, it will be a case of the more haste the less speed."

Gives Reason for Delay.

"When the union station ordinance was passed in 1914, the work was to be done in five years," said Mr. Combs. "The war and strikes seriously interfered with the work, but those conditions are passed and what we want now is action."

"We intend to map out with the city a 1921 building program and hold them to that program, accepting no excuses. This program will be ready in a few days."

The principal obstacle now in the way of immediate work on the "head house" or depot proper is the change from the original plans which called for a four story building to plans for a skyscraper from sixteen to twenty stories high.

Needs New Foundations.

This switch necessitates reinforcing the foundations already laid and constructing new foundations at certain points. Representatives of the railroad also declare that they will not be ready to finance the project on a big scale until the government makes full payments of its promised compensation to the roads.

CLEOPATRA SIPS PEARLS; WE TAKE SILVER IN OURS

Nearly 200 pounds of silver has been installed at city pumping stations to protect valves from chlorine, the chemical placed in the water to protect the city against typhoid fever.

When installation of the silver fittings is complete, 400 pounds of the precious metal will be doing duty in the "wells" where the pumps suck the water from the water tunnels and transmit it to the city mains.

The three-quarter inch pipe which carries the chlorine solution into each "well" is composed of silver. Action of the chlorine on the silver forms a coating of silver-chloride, which protects the pipe from being "eaten" by the continued flow of chlorine.

Assertions that the city water system is being endangered by the use of chlorine are false," said Assistant City Engineer V. S. Peterson. "There is not enough chlorine in the water when it gets 150 feet from the pumping station to have any effect on the iron pipes."

A BLIND MAN'S VISION

Joseph H. Procter, who is blind, but says he has had a clear vision to preach as an evangelist. He is earning his way through Garrett Biblical institute by tuning pianos.

JOSEPH H. PROCTER tunes pianos during his spare time. The rest of the time he attends Garrett Biblical institute at Evanston. He expects to become an evangelist within three years.

He has been blind during his entire life, but he has had a vision that is very clear, he says. It is the vision to preach.

"I am working my way through school with the idea of preaching and of transcribing many religious books so the blind can read them," he said yesterday. "I feel that this is my duty. I will not let a thing like blindness deter me."

Procter, who is 25 years old, is from Philadelphia, Pa.

Success for the $500,000 building fund drive of the Illinois General Hospital and Research foundation was predicted by a number of speakers last night at a dinner given for the medical staff of the institution at the Congress hotel.

"There is a shortage of 10,000 hospital beds in Chicago," said Mrs. George Bass, president of the board of trustees, "and one of the advantages of our taking over the Woman's hospital on Thirty-second street is that we not only have a good building but we also have the vacant ground so that we can expand."

"There isn't a man or woman to whom we state our case," said Dr. Benjamin Gruskin, "who won't be willing and able to do something for a cause like this."

China has 320,000,000 inhabitants.

Our commerce with China in 1919 reached the grand total of $260,000,000.

Helping China now in its dire need is helping our own future commerce, if you want to look at the China Famine Relief fund as a cold business proposition.

And if the China famine be not averted, it will develop into the greatest calamity in the history of the world, with a minimum of 15,000,000 deaths.

TEXTILE MILLS WHIR FASTER IN NEW ENGLAND

Fall River, Mass., Jan. 18.—The manufacture of textiles in New England's major industry, normally employing more than 300,000 operatives. During the war the wages of these operatives, traditionally low, increased well over 100 per cent, and still the mills made large profits.

Then came "readjustment" in the latter part of last August and the first of last September the textile mills of New England either shut down or worked on only part time.

On Monday, Jan. 17, a wage cut went into effect in the mills of the American Woolen company. More operatives showed up than there were places to be filled. Last week the textile mills of New England took more orders than at any equivalent time since the depression began last summer. If normal work is resumed within the next two or three weeks, as seems probable, wholesale misery in New England mill towns will be averted.

Many Foods are Cheaper.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 18.—An average decrease of 8 per cent in retail prices of twenty-two food articles in December, compared with November, was noted today in statistics compiled by the labor department. Compared to December, 1919, the decrease was ten per cent.

The products and decreases were: Oranges, 27 per cent; pork chops, 25 per cent; sugar, 18 per cent; ham, 13 per cent; bacon, butter and lard, 11 per cent; round steak, flour and bananas, 10 per cent. Raisins increased 36 per cent, rolled oats, 18 per cent, and storage eggs, cream of wheat and macaroni, 9 per cent.

He was said to be a boyhood chum of Abraham Lincoln. His home was at Bolivia in Christian county. The colonel was a familiar figure at Elks' conventions in Illinois, and had often headed their parades.

Champaign, Ill., Jan. 18.—[Special.]—In a frenzied finish, the University of Illinois basketball team defeated the University of Chicago quintet, 33 to 29 tonight. It took five minutes of overtime play to decide the rough battle. Chicago lost the game by a margin of five seconds.

CLARENCE VOLLMER
VOLLMER TIES UP GAME
[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Vollmer tied the game at 25 apiece. In the overtime period Vollmer sank a basket, but Vollmer tied it again for Chicago. Reisch put the Illini ahead once more and again the Maroons tied it up on Birkhoff's basket. Brilliant goals by Hellstrom and Reisch in the last minute sank Chicago's hopes.

The miraculous tossing of Clarence Vollmer kept Chicago in the fight throughout the game, and although closely guarded, he glided through the defense for eight shots into the bucket.

Reisch and Walquist star.

Reisch, the giant Illinois center, who took the ball on the tipoff and was a star in short follow-up shots, and Walquist, with his one hand tosses from the court corners, were the stars for Coach Winter's team.

Five thousand wild fans jammed the gym and the whistle of the officials' bell could be heard above the din.

Lineup:

Illinois: Vollmer, 11; Reisch, 10; Walquist, 10; Hellstrom, 10; Birkhoff, 10. Chicago: Reisch, 10; Walquist, 10; Hellstrom, 10; Birkhoff, 10; Vollmer, 10.

GASOLINE ALLEY—WALT MAKES A SAD DECISION

ELECTRIC SIREN SETS INDIANA BASKET FANS YELLING HEADS OFF

BLUINGTON, Ind., Jan. 18.—To get the yell leaders in full view of all rosters attending athletic contests in the gymnasium of Indiana University, Eddie Brackett, yell leader, has designed a platform to be suspended from a steel girder over the center of the playing floor.

The plan was tried out at the Indiana-Northwestern game last night for the first time, and voted successful.

Directions to the rosters are given by means of signals on an electric siren, located on the platform, which is also connected by telephone with the scorers' table.

EVANSTON FIVES BEAT PROVISIO IN 2 LEAGUE GAMES

Superior work in guarding gave Evanston a double victory over Proviso in two Suburban league basketball games at Maywood yesterday afternoon.

The heavyweights winning, 12 to 9, and the lights, 14 to 6.

Taylor was the star of the Evanston defense in the heavy contest, while Kassel led the offensive attack with three baskets.

In the lightweight contest Howell starred for Evanston with four baskets and two free throws, while Janhusky featured for Proviso, making all the home team's points on a basket and three free throws. Heavy lineup:

Evanston (12): Howell, 10; Kassel, 10; Taylor, 10; Janhusky, 10; Birkhoff, 10. Proviso (9): Janhusky, 10; Birkhoff, 10; Howell, 10; Kassel, 10; Taylor, 10.

STEINMETZ BOYS ENTER TRIBUNE SENIOR ICE RACE

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Julian Steinmetz, winner of THE TRIBUNE's first silver skates derby, and his brother William, who competes under the colors of the Norwegian-American A. A., yesterday entered the senior silver skates derby to be held at Humboldt park on Jan. 30 in connection with a junior silver skates derby.

The Steinmetz brothers are among the stars of the city's skating scene.

At the half mile event decided last Sunday, Bill Steinmetz was the victor, with a time of 1:10.4.

Brother Julian second, Roy McWhorter, favorite in the race, was third.

Both Steinmetz boys have been showing rare form this year and have settled down to train for the classic in a manner which augurs well for success.

Put Up Great Race.

The day that Julian Steinmetz won the junior derby he nearly repeated in the senior race.

He took the smaller event with ease, but in the larger and more important contest he did not have the stamina to stave off challenges of other contestants who had not tired through previous efforts.

Although entry of Fred Buendgen, president of the club, yesterday asserted a team entry of thirty-two skaters including Buendgen will be made today.

Buendgen is considered nearly the equal of the Steinmetz brothers and racing luck may be an important factor in determining the winner.

After consulting skaters and taking into consideration the inexperience of a number of entrants, it has been decided to lay out a six lap track instead of an eight circuit course. Class A, B and C contestants are accustomed to skate the sharp corners, but the boys who race in the junior derby and most of the girls cannot make the small turns with any degree of safety.

Easy for Spectators.

It also has been decided to start the races at different points of the track so that spectators will have an opportunity to see the skaters get away and finish. The results will be announced plainly and the crowd kept informed as to what is to take place.

It also has been decided to start the first race at 1 o'clock, but no skaters will be permitted to use the course after it has been staked out with flags.

Julian T. Fitzgerald, president of the Western Skating association, has been chosen for starter, while judges, timers, inspectors and other officials will be chosen from the large field of men familiar with ice racing.

Woods and Waters by LARRY ST. JOHN

FOR AND AGAINST WILD DEER.

WILD deer are among the most interesting of animals, and their presence in a place of woodland makes that place doubly attractive—gives it a true wilderness flavor. The sight of a "stag" as the white tailed deer raises its tail and dashes away, will stir the blood of any imaginative boy or girl, and if they should happen to see the deer when he hurdles a high obstruction, they will never forget it.

Deer will do well on such land that makes up the county forest preserves, for deer were there a good many years before the preserves were thought necessary; there are men still alive who have shot deer in the present county forest preserves.

One of the objections that would be raised against turning deer loose in the county preserves would be the damage they would do to the crops of neighboring farmers and truck gardeners, but this is not serious.

We would not advocate turning deer loose in the county forest preserves with the view of ever having an open season on them. Deer hunting in the environs of Chicago is out of the question. We do hope that the park commissioners will get some more deer, but provisions should be made for confining the bucks in the autumn months. At this time of the year—the mating period—a buck that is ordinarily as docile as a kitten becomes a raging beast of battle, capable of killing a man.

KOCKLER AND "PARD" RIDE TO FIRST PLACE AFTER THEY LOSE IT

STANDING OF TEAMS

Osteritter-Kockler 1st, 27; Kockler-Belle 1st, 14; Kockler-Maglin 1st, 22; Kockler-Hill 1st, 22; Kockler-Maglin 1st, 15.

Repeating their winning spurt of the previous night,

Kockler and "Pard" rode to the lead in the six day bicycle race at the Coliseum, Earnest Kockler of Chicago and his partner, Osteritter, featured the sprints last night.

In the sprints last night Kockler and Osteritter scored winning five of the ten dashes to place them in front by a margin of one point. Madden and Maglin stood second.

The riders had covered 888 miles, 9 laps at midnight, the fiftieth hour. Six of the teams are tied in mileage, while two are trailing two laps behind.

Another Team Out.

The field which until last night numbered nine teams was reduced to eight in the early hours of the evening when two of the riders, Frank Drobach and his partner, Ryan, became involved in a disagreement which resulted in the pair breaking company. Ryan quickly found a new partner in Fred Weber, and Drobach formed a new partnership with Stein.

The rules forced them to accept a penalty of one lap, and as they were a lap behind, they now ride two laps in the rear of leading teams.

No Damage in Spills.

There were a few spills during the day, but no one was damaged. Punctured tires caused most of the falls.

The riders who suffered the most damage in the jams of yesterday morning were back on the track. Ray Eaton appeared with his right eye and a leg bandaged. Fred Weber, a little the worse for wear, was still pedaling around the oval.

GREATER ARRAY OF NATIONS FOR DAVIS CUP PLAY

New York, Jan. 18.—An effort to have a greater number of nations competing for the Davis cup tennis trophy than in any previous year will be made by the United States Lawn Tennis association, it was announced today.

The American Davis cup committee has authorized the sending of letters to South American and European nations with organized tennis associations, who have not heretofore competed, inviting them to forward challenges. Canada expects to enter the competition this year.

The American Davis cup committee announced it will recommend to the schedule committee that the challenge round of the Davis cup matches precede the national singles championships, no matter where the latter event is played. It will advise also that the championship should not be held much later than has been the custom, owing to the falling light of September.

KILLEFER WRITES "JOHN HANCOCK" ON CUB CONTRACT

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

Showing a spirit that conforms with the new plan of conducting baseball, Bill Killefer, star backstop of the Cubs, called on President Veeck at the north side yesterday and not only signed one of the new form of contracts, but spoke enthusiastically of prospects for some rousing times on the north side this summer. Bill intended to go to California in the near future and get a bit of early conditioning so as to be ready for the start of the big season.

"It doesn't look like we're going to get over any trade that will help us," commented Bill, "but even if we don't, I think the Cubs will be in the thick of the fight for the pennant. Badger can't stick to one team all the time, and we have had our share of it. We wouldn't have had to win a lot more games last year to have caused trouble for those fellows on top. Just when we lost Hollocher and had a lot of others on the injured list it took away just enough strength to allow some of the close contests to get away. Just a little more pep and endurance will make a winner of our bunch."

Killefer's Finger O. K.
Bill himself was among the injured ones, getting a finger broken near the last lap of the race that kept him out for the rest of the season. That finger is all right now and Bill is sure to do a large part of the catching.

Manager Evers, who departed yesterday for Troy, will take the big squad, including a lot of recruits, to the camp, leaving here on March 3 and beginning the regular grind on the Pasadena field four days later. It looks now as if he will have a squad of forty men to begin with, and he intends to have a good look at every one of the recruits.

Sox Sign a Pitcher.
Not overlooking any chance to add pitching strength to the White Sox, the south side club has purchased a young and prospective star from Kalamazoo, Mich., in Howard Fenner. He's a big right handed lefty who wound up his first season in the profession last year with three games of one hit each in the Michigan State league. Previous to that he had hurled only in college. His addition makes a total of fifteen slammers on the list that Boss Gleason will inspect in the Texas training camp.

MASON TO BACK LANDIS TO HOLD JUDICIAL SEAT

Washington, D. C., Jan. 18.—[Special.]—Representative William E. Mason of Illinois, today followed the example of Senator Sherman in returning to Thomas J. Rutherford the brief sent by him protesting against the action of Federal Judge Landis of Chicago in accepting the post of supreme ruler of organized baseball at a salary of $42,500 a year while still retaining his judicial seat.

Representative Mason said he suggested to Mr. Rutherford that the petition was too strong in spots and that, if modified, he might be willing to file it with the house.

The copy sent to Senator Sherman by Mr. Rutherford was returned to the author without any suggestion of modification.

Mack Urges Rule Against Big Clubs Tempting Stars

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 18.—[Special.]—Connie Mack says the time has come when a rigid ruling to hold in check those clubs who tempt stars of other teams so that they get dissatisfied and leave to be sold to maintain peace in the baseball family.

"Some of these first division clubs don't seem to realize the damage they do by these tactics and I think it will take some kind of a ruling by Judge Landis to get it through their heads," Mack said today. "These first division teams think that whenever a star is developed like say, Dugan, all they have to do is advertise that they'll pay him thousands of dollars for him and then double the salary he's getting from his present club."

"To my mind, that's the biggest menace baseball faces right now. I was hoping they'd do something about it at the Chicago meeting. It will have to come."

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 18.—[John C. Bassler, catcher of the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast league, has been traded to the Detroit Americans for Catcher Oscar Stange, Third Baseman Lindemore, and a right handed pitcher, and a second baseman, to be named by March 1, it was announced today by Wade Killefer, Los Angeles manager.

"GREASED" BASKET PLAYERS.

Now comes W. G. Erdman, president of University of Wisconsin Club of Deaf, with the charge that Michigan players were "greased" in the Wisconsin game at Ann Arbor. Here is his communication, in part:

"In the basketball game between Wisconsin and Michigan the Wolverines, although leading by six points at half time, returned to the game with their shoulders greased. Coach Mackler, in his anxiety to keep the lead, permitted his men to have their shoulders greased so as to make them hard to hold when guarded by the Wisconsin team. He failed to take into consideration that after the Badger hands became slippery that this in turn would make the ball hard to handle for both teams."

"Finally the referee realized the seriousness of the offense and stopped the game long enough to have the men's shoulders wiped with clean towels and the ball 'massaged.' Let us hope we do not have a repetition of such tactics in intercollegiate athletics. Wisconsin won the game, 27 to 24, in spite of the 'greasy' tactics."

"Greasing" basketball players is nearly as old as the delayed pass in football, but has been out of vogue in the Big Ten for several years. The Wake has a high regard for Michigan sportsmanship and feels sure that such a trick would be without the sanction of Director of Athletics Phil Bartelme, whom we have known personally for years.

We open the columns of The Wake to Mr. Bartelme or to Coach Meenwell of Wisconsin for further discussion of this charge.

BOOST TO 5 PER CENT IN TAX OF BALL PARKS PLANNED BY COUNCIL

At a meeting of the city council revenue committee yesterday a subcommittee was named to draw up the new license ordinance which will require the payment of 5 per cent of the gross receipts of baseball parks, instead of the former ordinance, which required a flat license fee.

The same committee was voted power to take up the question of raising payment for police detailed at the parks from $3 to $10 per day.

Formerly Paid for Half Day.
It was said that in the past $3 per day was charged for each policeman assigned to an amusement park and that the baseball parks paid for only a half day.

Under the new plan a charge of $10 for each man is contemplated, whether he is there a whole or a half day. One of the baseball officials, in commenting on it, said that under the new plan of conducting organized baseball no policemen should be needed.

Extra Tax for Fans?

If this new license law taxing ball parks goes through the council it is probable the fans may be asked to give up the extra levy, which would amount to from 5 cents to 8 cents on each admission.

This would be in addition to the present war tax collected by Uncle Sam.

TWO MORE STATES WOULD LEGALIZE BOXING CONTESTS

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 18.—Senator J. H. Brogan of St. Louis today introduced a bill legalizing professional boxing and placing it under control of a boxing commission. He said the bill was being supported by members of the American Legion. All boxing contests would be licensed and limited to fifteen rounds and penalties fixed for fake bouts.

THOSE FOXY GIANTS WERE OUTFOXED IN ROGERS HORNSBY DEAL

HERE'S a new angle to the record offer made for Rogers Hornsby:

Incredible as it may seem, one baseball man who heard the inside of things during the gathering of magnates here last week figured it out that while the New York Giants offered $250,000 or $300,000 for Hornsby, they would have gotten him for practically nothing had the offer been accepted. He even guessed that the star would have cost still less had he been bought for a half million dollars.

It was first pointed out that the offer was made before the year 1920 had ended. As every one knows, the Giants had a tremendous season last year. Naturally the excess profits tax would take a big chunk for the government. But the club was entitled to charge off any expense connected with the running of its business. Money paid out for the purchase of Hornsby or any other player, would be expense.

Suppose the club made a profit of $400,000 or $500,000 in 1920, which may be too big a guess or too small. On that profit the government would take a huge slice. Suppose $250,000 or even $300,000 could have been spent for Hornsby and charged as expense. Not nearly so large a per cent of what was left would go to the revenue collector. The difference might have been close to the amount offered for the star. St. Louis would have had to fork over some of the purchase price to Uncle Sam, of course.

Without knowing what the Giants' profits were and what the excess profits tax would be, one can't figure the thing out. Maybe some expert on finances could.

M'GOWAN BEATS BAPTIE IN FOUR RACE TESTS ON ICE

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 18.—Defeating Norval Baptie of Philadelphia in four races here tonight, Everett McGowan, St. Paul skater, won the right to meet other prominent skaters of the country in an elimination series to determine the world's skating championship.

McGowan, making his second appearance as a professional, won the 220 yard, the 440 yard, the mile, and two mile events from Baptie. Sunday he took the 880 yard event. The St. Paul man, who won the international amateur skating championship last year, captured the 220 yard event in 20 1/2 seconds by three feet; the 440 yard in 39 seconds by a lap; the mile in 2 minutes 56 2/5 seconds, by more than a yard, and the two mile in 5 minutes 68 4/5 seconds, by more than a yard.

NOTES OF CUE ROOMS.

In the opening game of the Class A three cushion tournament at Nusser's Madison street room Campbell defeated Wadsworth (38), 35 to 30. The other players entered, saw Ward Carlin and Tim Shea (40), Anderson, Duffy, Roberts, Lawrence, and Burton.

Paul (42) defeated Burslem (42), 42 to 25, in the three cushion tournament at Beninger's.

In the second block of the final tournament for the junior championship of the Chicago Billiard league Art Kowalski defeated Ben Gordon, 41 to 38, at the Recreation. Gordon now leads, 70 to 64. The final block will be played tonight.

In the senior championship tournament of the Chicago league Kieckhefer (60) defeated Gene Moreau (45), 60 to 38, at the Recreation. At Leffingwell's Wilson avenue room Capron (52) defeated Dr. Harris (48), 52 to 41. Al McGowan's Free (150) defeated Buck Finn (44), substituting for Charlie Dougherty, 50 to 29.

HOCKEY NOTES.

The Illinois A. C. team will play the Chicago Beach team in the Chicago Hockey league series on Sunday at 3 o'clock at the Chicago Beach hotel.

SENATORS QUIZ U. S. OFFICIALS ON CALDER BILL

Washington, D. C., Jan. 18.—Regulation of the coal industry as provided in the pending Calder bill was indorsed today by heads of two of the three government agencies which would be charged with administration of the measure.

Edgar E. Clark, chairman of the interstate commerce commission, and Dr. George O. Smith, director of the geological survey, told the senate manufacturing committee that the bill as drafted would be workable.

Chairman Clark, asked particularly about car supply at the mines, declared the acute car shortage of last year might again be experienced unless a means were devised to bring about the transportation of coal in advance of seasonal requirements.

Overproduction Good for Public.

Dr. Smith was led into a prolonged argument during his testimony by Senator Reed of Missouri.

"Isn't it a fact that there always was plenty of coal, at low prices, in this country prior to 1914 and the war?" he asked. "Do you know of a case where a man could not go to a coal yard and get all he wanted any time, barring occasional strikes or railroad tieups?"

Dr. Smith replied that the industry generally had been "in bad condition and unbalanced" and troubled by overproduction, to which the Missouri senator responded that "overproduction generally is a good thing for the community at large."

Senator Reed also contended that normal operation of economic supply and demand would give a better and cheaper coal supply than any federal regulation, but Dr. Smith held that there was "a middle ground" for regulation by federal authority desirable.

Coal for Thousands of Years.

The geological survey head told the committee that the United States possessed half the coal resources of the world and possibly enough to insure a supply for "thousands of years."

"Isn't it true that there is a limited amount of anthracite?" inquired Senator Kenyon. "And is not nearly all of this produced by seven railroad companies?"

To this Dr. Smith agreed, although he remarked that "organization in the anthracite industry as I have seen it has created to more public advantage than disorganization in the bituminous."

MANY INJURED AS CARS JUMP RAILS IN OHIO

Greenville, O., Jan. 18.—Twenty-two persons were injured, two or three seriously, when a fast New York-St. Louis passenger train on the Pennsylvania railroad jumped a switch three-quarters of a mile east of here at noon today and crashed into a freight train and tearing up 500 feet of track.

Three coaches and the engine passed the switch, but the remaining seven coaches left the rails, demolishing the freight engine and three freight cars and tearing up 500 feet of track.

The injured were given first aid treatment by local physicians. Relief and wreck trains were rushed here from Richmond, Ind., and from Bradford, O.

Looking Toward Summertime

Some Excellent Values in Cotton Dress Goods Are Featured

WHEN such fascinating fabrics as Dotted Swiss and Embroidered Voiles are so specially priced they are more than ever irresistible.

Those now preparing for Southern trips will find much of interest here. And the many who like to do their Spring and Summer sewing early will feel it none too soon to be picking up dainty materials, especially at such alluring prices.

Unlimited Assortment at These Prices

42-in. Dotted Swiss,
Yard, $3

Embroidered Voiles,
Yard, $2

This St. Gall Dotted Swiss, is extra-wide, soft and has a voile finish. It is very attractive for frocks and for combining with taffeta and organdy. The dots are fine on colored grounds and medium-sized on white grounds. The color combinations include white on green, cadet blue, navy, brown, and black.

These sheer white Voiles with their daintily embroidered figures are among the season's choicest importations. Lovely frocks and blouses may be developed from this Swiss fabric. As it will withstand frequent tubbings, it will be found very serviceable. The price is very unusual for so desirable a fabric.

Paris Reveals Much Fascination

in the Collection of Model Wraps and Coats,
Just Arrived, for California and the South.

ASSURANCE comes direct, in the form of these lovely new things, that great French designers have made the separate Wrap, more important than ever, the subject of their most brilliant inspiration and ingenuity.

Destined for the warmer climates of the South, are delightful silken Wraps, while for the various parts of California, lovely soft woollens for wear over a one-piece frock, or over a light-weight suit when a motor trip is planned. Other short Top-coats of wool or silk are shown in many colors and models. Evening Wraps are exquisitely represented in the collection.

Nothing smarter can be imagined than the Wrap at the left, of navy tricotine, with darned plaid of red wool, lined with red crepe de Chine and finished with a potted rick-rack edging of tricotine.

Charming for innumerable occasions is a Wrap of black crepe de Chine, with over-cape, embroidered in gray, with gray mongolic fur, forming a soft and delightfully becoming finish.

Planning Spring Sewing?

A Value to Investigate

Navy Serge, $2.50

NAVY Blue Serge, 54 inches wide, represents a seldom-seen value. This is one of our most excellent qualities in dress-weight Serge. It has the usual fine twill that all French Serge has, but this piece has a "feel" of firmness along with its softness. Women will at once recognize its worth.

Wool Dress Goods, Second Floor, South, State.

Innovations in Women's Skirts

Give Interesting Variety

SEPARATE Skirts this season are full of surprises. You see bold, wool embroidery used on moonglow crepe, baronette satin combined with crepe Georgette, knife and box plaits in the same Skirt, plaited edging used perpendicularly, sash belts, and many novelty materials. The most agreeable surprise is the very moderate prices for these lovely Skirts.

A smart tailored Skirt of white flannel with inserted pockets is an attractive value for $15.

A white wool Bedford cord expresses style in its tailored lines and slanting, inserted pockets, $23.50. The Skirts represent a price range from $10.75 up.

Women's Skirts, Sixth Floor, South, State.

Black Chantilly Lace, $3.90 a Yard

MOST unusual is the opportunity to purchase 36-inch Chantilly Lace Flouncing at the above special price. Those who realize how effective this beautiful tissue may be used on evening and afternoon Frocks will welcome such a value. The quality is all that can be desired.

Flouncings, Second Floor, South, State.

White Flannel

Attractively Priced, 75c

IT is a long time since we have been able to offer 34-inch Flannel at anywhere near this price. The quality is recognizably good and will be appreciated by mothers who make their children's undergarments. In consideration of those planning wardrobes for the South it may be suggested for sports blouses. It is also very desirable for infants' layettes.

There are many other excellent qualities in White Flannel to be had in the Section at especially moderate prices.

Flannels, Second Floor, Middle, State.

Footwear of Distinction In Our Semi-Annual Sale

TO know that one's Footwear bears the stamp of irreproachable style adds to the pleasure of possession. The further knowledge that worth-while economies have been effected in its purchase doubles one's satisfaction.

All our highest grade Footwear is offered in our Semi-Annual Sale, now in progress, at reductions that make the values notable indeed. Shoes for street and dress wear, Oxfords, Pumps, Strap Slippers—including those for wear in the South—all are present in assortments remarkable for variety and for the suggestion of smart elegance they convey.

Our organization is skilled in the interpretation of the mode. Its decisions are authoritative. That is the secret of the distinction which our Shoes possess.

The wise shopper will take advantage of the complete assortments and reduced prices to select not only for present but for future needs.

Fourth Floor, South, State.

New Frocks and Suits Suggest the Coming Mode

A DAY does not pass that does not bring something new in lovely apparel to add to our already large and unusual collection. Afternoon Frocks fashioned of soft silken stuff are slender and graceful, and to further their charm is some bit of exquisite trimming. Perhaps the three piece Suit strikes the newest note, though the very tailored Suits with stitched trimming continue in favor.

AFTERNOON FROCKS OF SILK

Very new, indeed, is the Frock on the left, of crepe Georgette which comes in different colors. Its very unique trimming is openwork formed of crystal beads, taffeta-covered, which holds the Georgette together. Foundation of taffeta.

SMART INDEED ARE NEW SUITS

At right a handsomely tailored Suit of tricotine is trimmed with novelty silk braid.

In center is three-piece Suit of pique with box coat and knife plaited skirt, effectively embroidered on blouse and coat.

GRAINS SLUMP DESPITE GOOD EXPORT BUYING

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

A disposition on the part of a majority of traders to believe in the bullish news disseminated, made it impossible to hold the few bulges the grain markets had yesterday and brought a close well toward the inside, with losses $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ on wheat, $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ on corn, $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ on oats, $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ on rye and 2¢ on barley.

Export buying of wheat was the main factor. It was variously reported at 1,000,000 to 2,000,000 bu, with actual confirmations after the close 2,000,000 bu, making 2,500,000 bu for two days. Greece and Belgium were the best buyers, taking largely Manitoba, with 140,000 bu at the Gulf at unchanged premiums.

Edge Lost Under Pressure.

Reports were so conflicting that, after the bulge of around $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢, the market weakened under steady selling by longs and shorts, while the export buying, although large of March by cash houses, was insufficient to sustain prices and the bulge was lost. Toward the last cash houses were sellers of March, while the May was sold by commission houses in general.

The most important news other than the export demand in wheat was the reduction in the Canadian wheat crop estimates of 30,000,000 bu, making it officially 245,000,000 bu. This is in line with private reports. Cash demand from millers was lighter.

Corn Near Season's Low.

Corn prices were highest at the start, with a break of 2¢ in futures and a close $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ over the inside. May was down 2¢ to 69¢, or $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ over the lowest of the season. January sold at 66¢ under May. Export buying took 300,000 bu with prices and 70,000 bu at St. Louis, with prices 11½¢ to 12¢ over May, track Baltimore, and 12½¢ to 13½¢ at New York for shipment this week. Country offerings were lighter, due to the break. Long grain came out freely and was fairly taken. The movement continues heavy.

Oats sold lower than heretofore this season and closed $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ over the inside at 45½¢ to 46½¢ for May. Hedgers and longs were the best sellers, while the support came mainly from buying against bids.

Most of the trading in rye futures was in buying against sales of wheat and vice versa.

Provisions Prices Decline.

Provisions prices declined while hogs advanced. Longs were the sellers and buying was limited both for cash and futures. The edge was off the demand for hams. Prices follow:

DRY GOODS MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Dry goods markets today were strengthened by offers of several large buying organizations to purchase goods in quantities for cash. A Baltimore corporation has its complete buying force here to take in $5,000,000 worth of dry goods, while some large catalogues here are sending special representatives to acquire available stocks of staple goods. Some retail houses also are offering to buy entire stocks for immediate shipment.

Cotton goods were firm. Yarns tended higher, and burlaps were easier. Wool goods awaited an opening of the leading men's wear lines for fall and expected announcements of low prices to clean up winter mill stocks.

CASH GRAIN NEWS

Export sales of wheat at the seaboard yesterday were reported by Russell's News at 1,500,000 bu to Manitoba to Greece, 175,000 bu to Manitoba to Belgium and 200,000 bu to the Gulf. Rye sales were 120,000 bu to Chicago handlers sold 300,000 bu to Atlantic coast exporters, and St. Louis sold 70,000 bu to the Gulf. Export sales at the seaboard were 50,000 bu. Omaha sold 50,000 bu to the south.

Domestic shipping sales at Chicago were 12,000 bu wheat, 100,000 bu corn and 113,000 bu oats. Deliveries on January contracts were 5,000 bu.

Premiums on cash wheat at Chicago were unchanged to 1¢ lower with No. 2 red sold at 186½¢ over March, while No. 1 hard was 84½¢ over. Receipts, 22 cars. At Omaha No. 1 hard was 18¢ over March, selling 18¢ over the previous day, and exporters were good buyers. Sample values there, 186¢ higher. St. Louis was 246½¢ higher with a good milling demand. Kansas City, unchanged to 2¢ higher on hard winter and unchanged to 1¢ lower on red.

Offerings of cash corn were fairly liberal with receipts, 401 cars. The basis was unchanged as compared with the May with No. 4 yellow 60½¢ under. Sample values were 161½¢ lower early, but later rallied 1¢ and then closed 162½¢ lower. Grade markets were weak and unchanged to 1½¢ lower.

Cash oats were 1¢ lower with No. 2 white 141½¢ and No. 3 white 140½¢ under May. Receipts, 61 cars.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

A mixed sentiment exists in demand. Those who regard the export demand and lack of accumulated stocks at leading western markets as important factors which they believe warrants buying on breaks. Traders who doubt the ability or disposition of foreigners to continue to take the wheat trade until the end of the season say prices are too high and they are selling on the latter as the main argument. Downward revision of the Canadian crop figures makes the supply situation more in line with ideas of holders.

Herbert Hoover, in a speech at the Indiana grain men's meeting, said this country had sixteen months' supply of food stuffs. This applies more to the coarse grains than to wheat, as the trade sees it.

Minnesota millers lowered flour prices 25¢ to 30¢ and rye flour 10¢ to 20¢ yesterday. Buying is not heavy.

January deliveries were 5,000 bu. corn; 240 bushels rye; 150,000 bu. hard, and 200,000 bu. soft rye.

Board of Trade directors have reappointed Walter S. Browne assistant secretary for the seventh time. Ernest A. Hamill, the treasurer, and Samuel Powell, manager of the clearing house, also were reappointed. No action has been taken on the secretary, owing to the absence of President J. P. Griffin in Washington.

Omaha reports the wheat prices were up 2¢ and says it had none to sell except for February shipment.

Italy canceled 80,000 bu. wheat said to have been bought by individual exporters.

The New York Times.

New York, Jan. 18.—[Special.]—Although today's money market was steadier, in the sense that the lower call money rates quoted on the early stock exchange seemed to have been withdrawn, the bond market and the foreign exchange market continued their reflection of an easier credit situation.

Every one of the war bonds except the five either reached or passed the highest price of the month to date. None is yet back to the high price of the early weeks of last year, but nearly all are now much nearer to that price than the low level reached in the break of last April and May, when the money stringency and the collapse of the stock exchange were coinciding with the advance in lending rates on war loan certificates to 6 per cent as against 4 1/2 per cent in 1919.

Bonds Advance on Merits.
The movement is the more important and auspicious from the facts that $750,000 worth of these bonds has been discounted from federal reserve loans since November of 1919, that fewer are now carried than at any time in the last three years, and that, to make the case complete, the treasury has in the last six months been buying for the making fund hardly one-fourth of the regular quota of that period. This shows the bonds are now advancing on their merits.

Foreign exchange advanced again today, with sterling quoted at one time at the month's high of 83.75. An irregular reaction occurred in the late trading; not, however, of any large proportions, except perhaps in the German mark. That particular decline Wall Street was disposed to ascribe to possible political complications.

Stocks Have Drifting Day.
The stock market's only movement was in response to tentative bidding up or selling down ventures of professional traders. These are at present nothing more than attempts to test the attitude of actual holders of industrial shares, and thus far they seem to have shown merely that such holders not only are not inclined to buy more of the stocks but also are under no necessity of selling. In a few industrial stocks there were indications that a "bear account" was being forced out, but the general market was irregular and purposeless.

GRUT SUCCEEDS F. H. RAWSON AS BANK PRESIDENT

Another illustration of the way Chicago's younger generation is taking its place among the leaders in business and industry was afforded yesterday in the election of Harry N. Grut as president of the Mercantile Trust and Savings bank.

Mr. Grut succeeds Frederick H. Rawson, who retired from the presidency to become chairman of the board of directors, a position newly created by the board.

Mr. Grut is 40 years old. He began his banking career in 1894 as a messenger with the old Royal Trust company. In 1897 he went to the old Continental National bank as a clerk, and in 1912 he became assistant of the newly organized Mercantile Trust and Savings bank. Last year he was elected a vice president and director.

This bank began with a capital of $500,000, which last year was increased to $400,000. It has surplus of $1,100,000 and deposits exceeding $5,200,000.

PROCTER-GAMBLE MANAGER QUIT; ROW IS DENIED

Cincinnati, Jan. 18.—[Special.]—The resignation of A. E. Procter, vice president and general manager of the Procter & Gamble plants in several cities, was confirmed today at the general offices here.

"I am retiring from the active general management, but expect to continue my financial interest and connection with the company for the present, at least," said Procter.

President William Cooper Procter said that Procter's retirement had resulted from recent peremptory orders requiring various plants was "sheer nonsense."

A rumor that Anderson intended to become attached to a large Chicago corporation of somewhat similar character was denied.

Anderson is 62, was born in Chicago, and has been in the city since 1894. He was a partner in the firm of Anderson & Co., which was merged into the present firm in 1914.

Anderson is a member of the Chicago Board of Trade, the Chicago Chamber of Commerce, and the Chicago Athletic Association.
